GEMINI TWELVE

The last mission in the historic Gemini series of space flights was launched Friday from Cape Kennedy. A—Blasting off 98 minutes after the Agena target vehicle, the capsule carrying astronauts James A. Lovell and Edwin E. Aldrin rendezvoused with the Agena on the third orbit at an altitude of 185 miles. B—After docking, problems cancelled firing of the Agena engine to lift the docked vehicles into a new orbit with a high point of 460 miles. C—Aldrin will stand in the open capsule hatch for a 2¼-hour series of day and night photographic experiments. D—The spacecraft will return to the original orbit where Aldrin will take a space walk and repeat the Gemini-11 experiment linking the Agena and Gemini capsule with a tether for a station-keeping exercise. E—Lovell and Aldrin will have a free ride on the return to earth. Re-entry will be automatic, controlled by the onboard computer with the astronauts taking over only if an emergency develops. Splashdown in the West Atlantic is scheduled for 94½ hours after launch. Next: The first three-man Apollo flight.

See Bitter Struggle in Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are watching closely for the outcome of what now appears to be a bitter struggle within Communist China's hierarchy.

State Department authorities say it is evident that strong opposition has developed to the policies of Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Question Policy

For months there has been an internal questioning of Mao's foreign policy, a debate on military policy and disagreements on basic economic policy.

Debate within the Chinese Communist party is not new, experts here say. The leadership, drawn from persons who have been comrades in arms for 30 years, has permitted this relationship.

But these experts add that party leaders always had been able to reach a consensus — until last spring. At that time the issues became so varied and extensive, and there was so much disagreement, that the party Central Committee was unable to reach a consensus.

According to this view, Mao then created the Red Guard to stir up the so-called great cultural revolution and at the same time provide a shakedown in the leadership.

Official sources here take the view that opposition elements within the Chinese Communist party have been strong enough to resist Mao, even with the added impact of the Red Guard. What now has developed, it appears here, is an impasse in which the party has been able to counter every blow dealt by Mao and the more extremist segment of the leadership.

Mao has been telling visitors for some years that he was wor-

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Gemini 12 astronauts, spaceage astronomers seeking secrets of the universe, photographed a solar eclipse today and then opened a hatch for Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr. to shoot clear pictures of the stars.

Aldrin thrust the upper half of his body into the vacuum of space at 11:15 a. m. for a planned two-hour, 20-minute session outside—a prelude to a two-hour space walk Sunday.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Shielding their eyes against the sun's glare, the Gemini 12 astronauts chased the moon across South America today and snapped photographs of one of nature's most spectacular sights: a solar eclipse.

For 10 minutes as their space ship raced across the skies, Jame A. Lovell Jr. and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. were busy cameramen, recording the steady movement of the new moon as it slipped across the face of the sun.

Revealing Look

For seven or eight seconds the sun was in rare total eclipse and the Gemini 12 pictures may give man his most revealing look at this phenomenon and perhaps answer some scientific riddles.

Before speeding out over the Atlantic, Lovell and Aldrin pitched the spacecraft nose down in an apparently unsuccessful effort to photograph the giant 52-mile-wide shadow of the moon as it slid across Peru, Bolivia, Brazil and Argentina.

"We hit the eclipse right on the money," Lovell reported. "But we were unsuccessful in picking up the shadow."

"Roger," answered mission control, "we figured it would be a long way off."

The eclipse over, Gemini 12 sped on toward another important task. At 11:29 a.m. Aldrin was to open his hatch for a 2-hour 20-minute work session, the first of three he plans outside the craft during the flight in hopes of learning man's physical limitations in weightless space.

Off Peru Coast

To obtain the eclipse photos, Lovell and Aldrin had to steer Gemini 12 to a precise spot above the Pacific Ocean just off the coast of Peru.

Because of the possibility of eye damage, they were cautioned not to look at the sun. To reduce the danger, they pulled a shade over one window and installed a filter on the other.

They mounted three cameras — two for 16mm movies and one still camera that snapped three pictures of the total eclipse at three different exposures ranging up to four seconds.

For 10 minutes, at an altitude of about 170 miles, the movie cameras recorded a partial eclipse as the moon started to obscure the sun. The total eclipse followed.

Million Taken

The pictures were among more than one million that were taken of the rare eclipse — first of its kind in 18 months and only the 39th this century. In all, it was to last three hours, starting in the Pacific west of the Gala-

Liuni Case Headed To Court; Resnick Discusses Adoption

"I am not optimistic," said Michael T. Liuni, the Tillson resident, who — with his wife — is attempting to adopt a 4½-year-old foster child through the Ulster County Welfare Department, in an interview today.

Liuni fears, he said, that "the court can turn us down." The Tillson couple, of Italian-American descent, whose attempt to adopt their foster child, a petite blonde named Beth, was rejected, plan an appeal to the New York Supreme Court Nov. 18. Optimistic or not, Liuni added, "When my wife and I got into this, we said we would go to the highest courts to get 'our' child." Liuni had said previously that he would spend what he had to and do what he had to keep the child—even if it meant selling his home—and that he would go beyond the New York court, if necessary.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville), who entered the case in behalf of the Liuni family, said that, in spite of all the national publicity the affair has received, the "main point is still being ignored."

Adoption Not in Courts

Resnick's office emphasized that the adoption of the child is not in the courts at this time. The case which is scheduled to be heard in the Court of Appeals next week, Resnick's spokesman said, is an appeal of the ruling of Judge Hugh Elwyn, of Ulster County Family Court. This ruling was on the habeas corpus proceeding brought by Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons in regard to legal custody of the child. This proceeding was brought when the Liuni family refused to surrender the child physically for adoption by another couple, giving as reasons the fact that she had been with them since she was five days old and that, during the years she had been with them, they indicated they wanted to adopt her. The Liuni family contends that Commissioner Fitzsimmons' position that they have no "legal" right to Beth ignores the "moral" right involved.

The ruling by Judge Elwyn says the Resnick office, said nothing about the actual adoption, which is not in the courts, although it does tie-in with other facets of the controversy. "The legal custody of the child is and remains with Commissioner Fitzsimmons," says the Resnick spokesman. "We're not discussing the matter now before the court. We're talking about adoption, and Fitzsimmons is the only person who can approve adoption. With a stroke of his pen he is free right now to approve the Liuni adoption papers, which he has in his possession."

Resnick's people maintain that the courts are not barring the Liuni couple from adopting

Overhaul of Dem Leaders in State Urged by Resnick

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville) who was re-elected on Tuesday for a second term, has called for a "thorough overhaul" of the State's Democratic leadership in the wake of his party's third successive defeat in state-wide elections.

Congressman Resnick won a second term by defeating his Republican opponent, Hamilton Fish Jr. by about 6,000 votes.

Discounts RFK Strength

Resnick, D-28th District, discounted the wide campaigning by Senator Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y, on behalf of the state ticket.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt was the lone candidate who survived the Republican victories at a statewide level, as Governor Nelson Rockefeller won a third term by defeating Frank D. O'Connor for governor by a 400,000 plurality.

Notes Bay State Vote

Resnick was quoted in Poughkeepsie as saying:

"The fabled 'Kennedy magic' just didn't seem to do much good so far as I can see. Even in Massachusetts, where there were two Kennedys busily at work, a Republican won the

Speed Is Keynote Of Murder Trial For Sam Sheppard

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The murder retrial of Samuel H. Sheppard, with its mixture of old and new testimony, continued today to move along swiftly compared to the 65-day first trial 12 years ago.

Today's half-day session winds up the third week of the trial. In those three weeks the prosecution has completed presentation of its case against the 42-year-old former osteopath and much of the defense case has been presented.

Son Testifies

One new witness called by the defense in the retrial was Sheppard's son, Samuel (Chip) Jr., whose appearance was a dramatic highlight in Friday's testimony. Chip, who was only 7 when his mother, Marilyn, was beaten to death July 4, 1954 in a bedroom adjoining his own room, told the jury he remembered little of the events of that morning.

Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder in the first trial and spent nine years in prison before an appeal through the federal courts brought an order, upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court, for a new trial.

Also called Friday by chief defense attorney F. Lee Bailey

Ground Fire Downs Five U.S. Planes in Heaviest War Loss

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist antiaircraft fire shot down five U.S. planes during raids over North Viet Nam Friday in one of the heaviest days of American losses of the war.

U. S. headquarters, reporting this today, said the pilot of one plane was rescued, but the six fliers aboard the other four aircraft are missing.

Pilots Imprisoned

A Tass dispatch from Hanoi quoted the North Vietnamese News Agency as saying four planes were shot down and "several U.S. Air Force pilots were imprisoned."

Headquarters also announced that three American helicopters were shot down Friday while supporting ground operations near the Plei Djereng Special Forces camp in the highlands close to the Cambodian border.

In ground action, the Viet Cong unleashed heavy mortar attacks Friday night and today on three American command posts in the Tay Ninh sector, where fighting has flared for the last nine days.

In two attacks, the Communists sent 75 to 80 rounds of mortar fire into the adjoining camps of the U. S. 25th Infantry Division and the 196th Light Infantry Brigade, located four miles west of Tay Ninh City.

Mortar Strike

In another attack early today, the Viet Cong unloaded another mortar bombardment on the 1st Infantry Division command post 17 miles east of Tay Ninh near Dau Tieng. Saigon headquarters said 70 rounds were fired, but reports from the 1st Division scene said about 200 hit the area.

U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light in all the attacks, revising an earlier announcement which said U.S. forces suffered moderate casualties in one of the shellings. Damage to equipment, mostly helicopters, was described as light also.

Also in the Tay Ninh fighting, ranging 60 to 65 miles northeast

Premier Ky Plans Removal of Two Top Army Leaders

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky was reported ready today to remove a flamboyant Vietnamese general from a vital command in the Mekong Delta.

Lt. Gen. Dang Van Quang controls the last large area in South Viet Nam where there are no major American military operations. He has been quoted as opposing putting U.S. troops in the delta.

Also regarded as a political threat by the Saigon regime, Quang is expected to be unseated ostensibly because of widespread corruption in the 4th Corps area. He reportedly has turned down an offer to command the 2nd Army Corps headquartered in Pleiku in the central highlands.

Girl Involved

Lt. Gen. Vinh Loc, 2nd Corps commander, has been ordered to the United States, for medical treatment. Sources here said, however, the transfer was because of allegations of corruption and his alliance with a night club singer. Loc has been in Saigon's Cong Hoa Hospital for three days and will not return to Pleiku, sources said.

He is one of the last members of old Vietnamese aristocracy in a high position here and is related to former Emperor Bao Dai. His critics accuse him of "royalist tendencies."

No U.S. official here would comment officially on what is considered a Vietnamese domestic matter but it was understood they at least tacitly support proposals to oust Quang.

North Viet Use Of Gas May Halt Charges in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Word that the Communists have used nonlethal gas in Viet Nam may scuttle Soviet bloc efforts in the United Nations to condemn the United States for chemical warfare.

The Reds made no mention of a report the Viet Cong had lobbed tear-gas type grenades at U. S. troops when they brought up the issue of bacteriological warfare Friday in the General Assembly's main political committee.

Filed Resolution

Hungary's Ambassador Karoly Csatorday, who introduced the resolution, charged that U.S. use of gases and chemicals in Viet Nam was "on the fringe of genocide."

William C. Foster, chief U. S. disarmament negotiator, said Red allegations that the United States was using any kind of poison gas in Viet Nam were "absolutely without foundation."

Foster did not mention the reported Viet Cong gas attack either, but he emphasized that he would deal with the Communist charges in detail later in the debate.

This roused speculation that the United States would give a full airing to the reported Com-

Troopers Seal Valley in Search Of Armed Robber

State Troopers have the local area sealed off in search of a masked gunman who allegedly held up a service station at the entrance of the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge, midnight Friday.

Troopers at the Fishkill barracks reported that a man described as about 22 years old, 5-11, and about 130 pounds entered Talbot's Service Station last night and ordered the attendent to empty the cash register. The suspect was reportedly armed with a shotgun and used a dirty T-shirt as a mask. He was wearing a black quilted ski jacket. After taking an estimated $150 he ordered the attendant to lie face down on the floor of the

List Pedestrian Dutchess County's 39th Road Victim

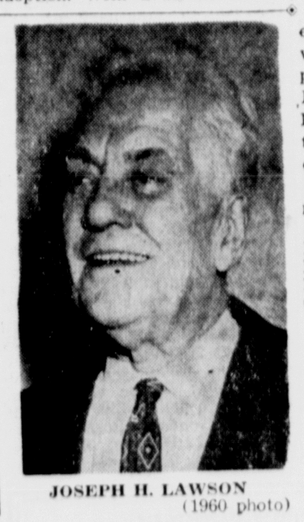

A 64-year-old farm worker and resident of Amenia, who had apparently fallen down in the parking lot of a restaurant and bar in that community, was killed at 10:45 p m Friday in a pedestrian traffic accident.

Dover Plains State Police identified the deceased as Charles Marshall; said the victim died in a one-car mishap in the parking lot of the Colony House, an Amenia restaurant. Authorities identified the driver of the car involved as James E. Simonton, 19, of Wassaic.

According to investigating officers, Trooper H. P. McGee and BCI Investigator Frank Hallock, the elderly victim must have fallen in the lot and was lying on the ground in such a position that he could not be seen by the Wassaic youth when he pulled his car into the lot.

Dutchess County authorities said the wheels of the car ran over Marshall. He was taken by Amenia Ambulance Service to Sharon Hospital, Sharon, Conn.,

Death Reported Of Ex-Freeman Foreman, Was 84

A Newspaperman died Friday night.

Joseph H. Lawson, 84, a veteran of 60 years of newspaper work — 20 of them spent as pressman and sterotyper for The Freeman — died suddenly in Kingston Hospital. He had retired from The Freeman at the close of 1960.

Mr. Lawson's death severs a marriage spanning 56 years, begun when he and the former Miss Emma Sweet of Lawrence, Mass., were married Sept. 24, 1910 in Lawrence's St. Patrick's Church.

Retired in 1960

Mr. Lawson, who retired as foreman of the Kingston Daily Freeman's pressroom, began his career in 1900 as New England's youngest pressroom foreman at the Sun-American in Lawrence, Mass.

Among his memories with the Lawrence paper was running off a special edition in 1901, carrying a story of the shooting of a President. In this case it was President William McKinley.

From Lawrence he went to White Plains as pressroom foreman for the Daily Record, then to the old Daily Reporter in White Plains, and finally to The Freeman in 1941 when the old Daily Reporter was purchased by the Macy organization.

Born in Lowell, Mass., June 1, 1882, one of the six sons and six daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawson, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Helen Owril, of Lawrence, and Mrs. Margaret Bissonett, Palo Alto, Calif. His wife resides at the St.

Recommend New Name For Community Chest

Reorganization of the Ulster County Community Chest into a new corporation known as the United Community Services of Ulster County, with responsibility in the areas of county-wide planning, budgeting, financing and public relations is one of a series of recommendations made by the Citizen Survey Committee of Ulster County, Inc.

The recommendation was included with others noted in a Community Report made by the committee after a survey. The committee was incorporated in April 1964, composed of representatives of a cross-sections of Ulster County.

Another recommendation is that the United Community Services, by appropriate contracts or agreements, align itself with the County of Ulster and the City of Kingston, to provide planning leadership and direction to across-the-board programs such as the Economic Opportunity Act and to include shared financing.

The committee further recommends an executive director of UCS be employed who, possibly by administrative agreement, could serve as general administrator of the local community action program for effectuating the Economic Opportunity Act. And further, that an assistant director be added to the staff, primarily responsible for campaigns (budgeting and fund raising).

Another recommendation suggests United Community Services be be clearly recognized as the Central Health, Welfare, Character Building and Recreation Planning Agency, with a professional staff experienced in community organization regarded as essential.

A fifth recommendation is that the existing Council of Social Agencies become a confer-

PROCLAIM DIABETES WEEK — Kingston Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan (seated, center) signs a proclamation designating the week of Nov. 13 to Nov. 19 as Diabetes Week in this city. The proclamation notes in part that early detection of the disease is done by a simple and quick test and if followed by competent medical care, can help those suffering from diabetes to lead active, productive lives. The document also reminds residents that the County Diabetes Association Chapter will renew a detection drive in Kingston and urges all citizens to protect themselves by getting a diabetes check. Shown with the mayor during the signing, standing from left, are Dr. Norman Berg, medical advisor for the detection drive; and Robert Gegley, chairman of the local chapter. Seated, at Mayor Garraghan's right, is Miss Helen Geneis, director of public health nurses, and at the Mayor's left, Mrs Hilda Brett, drive chairman. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr.)

Received War Loans, Gifts

Aid Benefactors Raid Treasury Gold Supply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many of the nations which received gifts and loans from the United States in two world wars and the postwar period now are helping themselves to this country's gold supply.

In fact, the 26 nations which drained gold from the U.S. Treasury during fiscal 1966 also owed the United States money. And in the case of their World War I debts, they had made no payments in almost 35 years.

France had drawn more gold from the Treasury since 1962 than any other nation. During the fiscal year which ended June 30 — the latest figures available — she drained more gold than all other nations combined.

Since most nations are indebted to this country it's the exception rather than the rule for nondebtors to drain gold from the U.S. Treasury.

Only four debtor nations — the United Kingdom, Greece, Colombia and Morocco — added to Uncle Sam's gold supply during the year, the British by about $170 million.

The Treasury Department also listed three nondebtor nations which sold gold to the United States during the fiscal year — Canada, Switzerland and the Vatican.

Countries normally sell gold to this country to obtain the dollars they need to carry on foreign business.

This can be done simply for the asking. The United States guarantees conversion into gold at $35 an ounce of the dollar holdings of foreign central banks.

France converted $577.7 million into gold during the last fiscal year and has converted at least $223.7 million since June 30.

Her policy of buying at least $34 million in U.S. gold month'y

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

As an Irish colleen of 20, Margaret Galligan had a full life ahead of her when she boarded the ill-fated Lusitania in 1915. Her future was quickly decided by a German torpedo which tore into the hull of the British liner, killing 1,195 people.

Margaret spent five hours in the choppy waters off the coast of Ireland, clinging to a deck chair. During these hours in the water, she prayed constantly for guidance and promised God that if she were spared, she would devote her life to the service of others. A British destroyer rescued her.

A woman of her word, Margaret entered the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor and took the name of Sister Amata, which means "love". For almost half a century she has given her love to the poor and unfortunate regardless of race, creed or color. Presently she is serving at Calvary Hospital in New York City, a hospital for advanced cancer patients, where she sits with the patients during their last hours.

While she keeps night-long vigils at bedsides, she busies herself making Raggedy-Ann dolls. Income from the sale of these dolls goes to a Sunshine Fund which buys those little extras such as cigarettes, candy, cards and games for the poorest patients.

Lutheran Men Name Speaker for Communion Fete

The annual communion supper of the Lutheran men of the congregations affiliated with the Lutheran Church in America, will be held Sunday 6:30 p. m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Hasbrouck Avenue, the Rev. Roy Meyer, pastor.

Participating are the congregations of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise, pastor; Trinity Lutheran Church, the Rev. John H. Frenssen, pastor, and St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Delegations are also expected from the Lutheran congregations in New Paltz and Saugerties.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Church will be host for the supper.

The principal address will be given by Harry Thayer, Kingston radio commentator and public speaker, whose topic will be How Tall Must I Be?

Following the supper the men will assemble for the celebration of the Holy Communion, with the host pastor, the Rev. Mr. Meyer in charge.

Fair Street Church To Host Harlem Guests on Sunday

The Rev. Donald DeYoung, minister of the Elmendorf Reformed Church of East Harlem, New York City, together with some of the members of the church, will be visiting the Fair Street Reformed Church this Sunday.

The group will be joining members of the Mission Committee, the Christian Life and Outreach Committee and other members of the local church for a covered-dish supper at 6 p. m. and then will share their ideas with those attending the Institute for Christion Living which begins at 7 o'clock.

The purpose of their visit is to explain what the Christian church is doing to meet the needs of those who are poverty-stricken and under the stress of deprivation, with the hope that the local church may seriously consider practical ways of bettering its ministry here in Kingston.

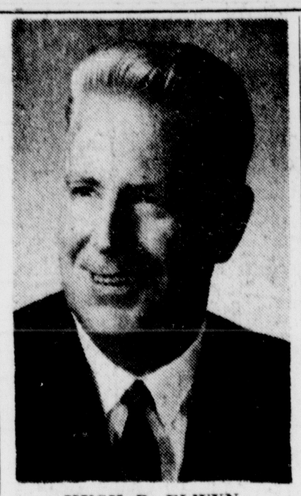

The Elmendorf Church was organized in 1660 in what was then a wooded farm country and has continued its ministry these 300 years in the changing environment of the city. In 1957 the church came under the care of the Board of North American Missions of the Reformed Church in America and was established as a mission church. At that time the membership had dwindled to 20. Since that time the church has been revitalized under the Rev. Mr. DeYoung's ministry, working particularly with Puerto Ricans, Negroes and the older white English-speaking members.

It is concerning this work and the programs planned for the future that the Rev. Mr. DeYoung will speak. This meeting is open to the public.

St. Mark's AME Plans Fund Drive To Raise $50,000

St. Mark's AME Church is currently conducting a building fund drive and has set a goal of $50,000. Nov. 26 the church will sponsor a bus ride to New York City.

Interested persons are advised to contact Mrs. Anna Waters said the Church also intends to hold bake sales and fund raising dinners.

HUGH R. ELWYN

Panel to Discuss New Morality at Sunday Seminar

A group of local citizens will participate in a panel discussion of the New Morality this Sunday night at the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the education commission of the church, the program is the second in a series of attempts to Bridge the Gap which has opened between youth and adults as they fail to communicate with one another in the realm of moral standards.

Judge Hugh R. Elwyn of the Ulster County Family Court, the Rev. Robert A. Hess, of the Flatbush Avenue Reformed Church in Saugerties, and Mrs. Robert H. Ohlson youth counselor of the Clinton Avenue Church, will be the panelists. The Rev. William A. Studwell, pastor of the church, will be moderator of the session which begins at 7 p. m.

Review Situation Ethics

Situation Ethics: A New Morality, by Dr. Joseph Fletcher, will be reviewed by the Rev. Mr. Hess as an example of the type of theology underlying some of the more permissive Christian thinking which has led to some radically different sets of values in modern thinking. Judge Elwyn will express his reactions to current moral behavior as it comes within his province. Mrs. Ohlson will take the viewpoint of the concerned parent and counselor with youth. High school members of the youth fellowship of the church will be attending this meeting along with their parents and other adults of the congregation. Guests will be welcomed to this open session.

Bridging the Gap in communication proved a very stimulating topic in the first meetings of this series when the Kingston obstetrician, Dr. Kurken V. Kirk, addressed parents and youth of the church during the past month. Mrs. Beatrice Edwards, chairman of the commission on education, announced plans to continue this effort to improve parent-child relationships.

St. James Sets Dedication Rite Sunday Morning

The new edition of the Methodist hymnal will be dedicated at the St. James Methodist Church Sunday at the 11 a. m. service.

Three hundred and fifty hymnals have been received and name plates have been posted in them indicating the honoring of present members or friends or memoralizing former members or friends.

Callers and canvassers will also be commissioned at this service and will make their every member visitation between 2:30 and 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

To the hymnological purist, the hymn continues to be "prayer and praise addressed to the deity." But to the average Protestant churchman — and perhaps especially to the Methodist — the hymn may also be a message of instruction, a high resolve, a prayer for a brother, or a plea for the well being of an individual or of the whole human race. Any religious conviction, hope, intent, or insight addressed to God or to man created by God, indeed, any worthy longing of the human heart may become a hymn prayer for individual or group use.

Slate Women's Breakfast Fete At Uptown Church

Sponsored by the ladies of the Dorfelmian Society, a communion breakfast for women of the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf Street and Tremper Avenue, takes place Sunday beginning with Holy Communion in the sanctuary at 7 a. m., followed by breakfast in adjoining Ramsey Hall, to be prepared and served by the members of the senior youth fellowship and their advisors, Harry and Ellen Flowers.

During the service of Holy Communion, a women's chorus is to sing the anthem, Jesu, Friend of Sinners by Gireg, under the direction of Miss Edna Merrihew organist and choir director, who will play as prelude and postlude respectively, Evensong by Schumann and Chorale by Mendelssohn. Conducting the service will be the Rev. William J. McVey, minister.

The breakfast program will feature a special service of dedication, and a message by Mrs. Thomas Reynolds Sr., a well known members of the community, who is presently serving as president of the board of directors of the Home for The Aged.

Officers of the society are Helen DuBois, president; Ellen Flowers, vice president; Barbara Castro, secretary; and Leah Edwards, treasurer. The committee on arrangements consists of Edwina Lawrence ad Roberta Gaddis. Many reservations have been made for this unique program in the history of the church.

Hinder Flow Of Falls For Inspection

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Engineers, seeking ways to halt erosion of the American Falls, began reducing the flow of water over the cataract early today to one-fourth its usual amount.

The partial turn-off, undertaken by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, was accomplished by use of an 1,800-foot-long control structure in the Niagara River atout a mile above the cataract.

The device, built by the U.S. and Canadian governments in 1954 for use in remedial work, channeled much of the water to the larger Horseshoe Falls,while engineers prepared to inspect rock debris that has accumulated at the base of the American Falls.

In addition, The State Power Authority and Ontario Hydro-electric Commission opened huge intake reservoirs of their plants on both sides of the river to receive the water.

About 8,000 cubic feet of water normally spills over the 181-foot cataract's brink each second during the winter. Engineers expected to reduce this to about 2,000 cubic feet.

Officials of the Niagara Frontier State Park Commission said they would take advantage of the reduced flow to clear tree trunks and other debris from the river above the falls.

Visitors were barred from Goat Island just above the falls and the gorge just below it during the engineers' inspection, which officials estimated would take about seven hours.

The flow then will be returned to normal.

J. OTTO WILLIAMS

Newburgh Lawyer To Be Speaker at Riverside Dinner

Guest speaker for the 33rd anniversary banquet of the Riverview Baptist Church, 240 Catherine Street, will be J. Otto Williams, Newburgh attorney.

The event will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Monday 7:30 p. m. and marks the conclusion of a week of celebration with guest speakers and special music.

Mr. Williams has served as special deputy attorney general assigned to election frauds bureau, New York State Department of law in 1964 and 1965. He was special assistant counsel to the majority leader of the New York State Senate in 1965 and previously had been investigator for the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board of Orange County and social investigator for New York City Department of Welfare.

He is a graduate of New York University with an AB degree and Brooklyn Law School with an LLB degree. He was admitted to the New York State Bar in 1962 and is a member of the State Bar Association.

Veterans Burn Discharge Papers In Viet Protest

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixteen members of an organization called Veterans and Reservists to End the War in Viet Nam burned military discharge papers, service ribbons and other asserted military documents at a protest rally Friday night.

A crowd of about 400 cheered in Union Square as a flaming bowl showing the items went up in smoke.

Coordinator of the rally was John Wolin, who described himself as a former Army captain in the post-Korea war period.

Wolin burned what he said were his promotion papers for lieutenant and captain.

Among several other speakers were Oliver Leads, chairman of the Brooklyn Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality. Said Leeds, "We see the escalation of the war as nothing but a bold attempt to create World War III, and we oppose that."

Syrian Cleric to Be Guest in Wappingers

Father Deacon Nicholas Simeon of the Syrian-Lebaneses Orthodox Church will participate in the services at St. Gregory's Orthodox Church, Route 376 and Vandewater Drive, Wappingers Falls, at 10:15 a. m. Sunday. Services will be in English.

Father Simeon is from Toledo, Ohio. He is completing his last year of seminary at St. Valdimir's Theological Academy, Tuckahoe, Yonkers. Father Simeon is married and has one daughter.

Situation Ethics Exponent Favors New Commandments

By JAMES F. DONOHUE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Joseph F. Fletcher, professor of ethics at Cambridge Episcopal Theological School, says he would amend the biblical Ten Commandments to read this way:

"Thou shalt not covet, ordinarily.

"Thou shalt not kill, ordinarily.

"Thou shalt not commit adultery, ordinarily."

"In other words," Fletcher says, "for me there are no rules —none at all."

Fletcher is considered America's leading exponent of "situation ethics," which he says "declares that anything and everything is right or wrong according to the situation—what is wrong in some cases would be right in others."

Revolution in Morals

"And this candid approach," he says, "is indeed a revolution in morals."

Fletcher explained in an interview that a situationist looks only at individual, concrete cases, not at abstract principles.

"I look at situations one at a time," he said. "You ask me how often premarital sex would be all right and I would say relatively infrequently. Maybe only once in 100 times. But in some situations unmarried love could be infintely more moral than married unlove."

"A situationist would discard all absolutes except the one absolute: always to act with loving concern," he said. "Oh, I know, the word 'love' is a swampy one, a semantic confusion.

"Put it this way then: A situationist is prepared in any concrete case to suspend, ignore or violate any principle if by doing so he can effect more good than by following it.

"What is good? Good is first and foremost the good of people. Christians call it love, meaning neighbor-concern—to seek the well-being of people.

"The good is what works. Apart from the helping or hurting of people, ethical judgements or evaluations are meaningless."

Under Criticism

Situation ethics has been criticized, especially by Roman Catholics, who uphold certain absolute moral laws. An American Jesuit, the Rev. Robert Gleason, said: "It is not in Christian tradition to present love as the exclusive motive for moral action."

Fletcher added: "Situation ethics is criticized for saying everything is relative.

"But we say, 'Look boys, this is the 20th century. The scientifically sophisticated world view is relativistic. You are going to be left out in the cold if you think the moral sciences are somehow an exception to this rule and this influence'."

Fletcher, in turn, criticizes persons he calls legalists—"people who like to wallow or cower in the security of the law."

"They want to maintain absolutes of good and evil, but they are not going to get away with it," he said. "Goodness is what happens to a human act, it is not in the act itself."

1,000 Protest On Tuition Rise

BROOKVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — About 1,000 students demonstrated on the campus of C. W post College Friday protesting possible tuition increases.

The students — many arriving in buses from the university's Brooklyn division — shouted down Long Island Chancellor R. Gordon Hoxie as he tried to speak.

The chancellor denied a student charge that the increases were being made to pay for a building program. He said they have been made necessary by faculty and staff salary boosts.

The current tuition fee is $44 per credit. The university board of trustees has been asked to approve increases bringing the cost per credit to $47 at the Brooklyn campus, $52 at the Southampton branch, and $49 at C. W. Post.

Dear Abby . . .

Sympathetic Ear Provides Therapy

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is people who tell me their troubles and ask advice. Everyone I know has confided some sort of mess to me—money troubles, neighbor troubles, children troubles, husband, sex, household, and every other kind of trouble, until I've had it to the teeth. These people are my friends and relatives, so I can't very well avoid them or they'd be hurt. I am glad if I can help, but it's gotten to the point where my husband comes home, takes one look at me and says, "Well, what happened now and to whom?"

I have my problems, too, but I don't burden anyone else with them. Well, I guess it's gone full-circle and now I'm telling YOU my troubles. What is your advice?

TIRED OF TROUBLES

DEAR TIRED: Look at it this way, most people who tell their troubles to others don't want advice they just want someone to listen to them. A sympathetic ear provides therapy for the troubled one, so consider yourself blessed to be able to perform that useful service.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I told this lady that I wasn't the marrying kind on our first date, but she said she didn't have anything going for her at the moment and was only out for a good time, so I could hardly run her off.

Well, one thing led to another and now I can't get rid of her. She hangs around where I work, bringing me hot lunches every day. And when the quitting-time whistle blows, there she is out in front with her car all shined up, waiting to give me a lift home.

But she doesn't take me to MY home, she takes me to HERS, where she has supper all cooked and waiting. Then she lets me relax while she just plays the guitar and sings love songs in my ear. Should I weaken?

OVER FORTY

DEAR OVER: How old is the car.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: After 22 years of marriage my husband has announced that he is taking in his mother to live with us. We have a three-bedroom home and four sons—two boys in each bedroom and my husband and I in the third. I asked my husband where his mother would sleep and he said, "With you. And I will sleep on the living room soft."

Abby, I have always gotten along well with his mother, but I didn't marry my husband to sleep with his mother. Besides, she has other children with more room than we have. My husband says he doesn't know how much longer he will have his mother, and as long as she's living she comes first.

Then he throws the Good Book at me, quoting the commandment about honoring thy mother and father. His mother is 64 and in good health. In fact, she's in better health than I am. What is your advice?

SECOND PLACE

DEAR SECOND: "Throw the Good Book" back at him: "A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother."

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Every once in a while you permit a reader to air his pet peeve in your column. May I?

Nothing makes me angrier than to pay good money for a sitter to care for our children, so that my husband and I may go out without them, only to find that we are pestered for a whole evening by the children of parents who are too tight to hire a sitter. Thank you.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 12, 1966

REPUBLICAN LASH

Nothing spectacular was expected in last Tuesday's nation-wide voting. Democratic majority control of Congress was, and is, too firmly entrenched to permit a reversal in only one election.

Nevertheless, the GOP comeback, on both a state and national level, was more impressive than most observers had looked for, leading to the inevitable speculations about what it means for 1968.

That is still a long way off, but the three R's—Romney, Rockefeller and Reagan—whether any or all of them will be presidential contenders two years hence, will be forces to be reckoned with by virtue of their gubernatorial victories in Michigan, New York and California respectively.

There is also a fourth R—Rhodes of Ohio—who won a second term by a record plurality. Add to this Shafer of Pennsylvania and Volpe of Massachusetts and the GOP has a solid and commanding base in six of the most populous states in the Union and certainly no shortage of attractive presidential timber.

What the election means in the short run is a little more difficult to predict. Though the Democratic majority in Congress remains, the liberal strength swept in by President Johnson's landslide in 1964 and which inspired so much Great Society legislation has been badly undercut.

If the northern Republican-southern Democratic conservative coalition can be re-established, the go-go 89th Congress may well become the no-go 90th. The Great Society will not be repealed, but if the new Congress withholds the funding necessary to implement the measures passed by the old Congress, much of it may exist only on paper.

Forget backlash and frontlash. Talk about Republican lash.

SO 45 IS TOO OLD TO WORK?

Thousands of job applicants over 45 years of age have been told they're too old to be hired.

It won't help their state of mind to know that a recent issue of the Monthly Labor Review reports that 400 beneficiaries on the Social Security Administration rolls are 100 years old or older.

More than 300 of these mature adults are getting benefits based on work they did after they were at least 75 years old. A dozen of them are still employed or self-employed, and the oldest is 120.

One of them retired last year as sling man on a longshore gang in Seattle at the age of 105.

So let's help that 45-year-old job seeker down the steps to reinstatement. Can't we see he's senile?

PLEASANT LAST YEARS

A 82-year-old man wrote a letter to a Midwestern newspaper recently complaining about the difficulty of living in a city on an income of $185 a month and paying $90 a month for an apartment. In an answering letter another oldster, this one a resident of a small town, advised his urban cousin to get out of the city.

He declared that he got only $99.50 a month and was very comfortable. "Boarding homes in any small town," he wrote, "charge $75 for room, board and laundry and the food is wonderful." Why, asked the small-towner, should anyone who has no family or relatives live in a city where things are so high priced?

One answer that comes to mind is that the 82-year-old had long lived in the city. It was home to him, and his friends were there; the neighborhood and the noises were familiar. In the city he was not a stranger.

There are important considerations, especially for the aged. Yet it is a valid point that living costs often are lower in a small community than in a large city. For those not so committed to city life that they would feel lost anywhere else, a small town may be the last place of all to spend one's declining years.

THE ROCKY ROAD TO A U. S.-SOVIET DETENTE

The game of "China watching" is played closely: when a Liu Shaochi moves below a Lin Piao on the list of functionaries surrounding Mao Tse-tung, vast significance is read into it in the government offices and banks of Taiwan, Tokyo and Hong Kong, and the news is quickly relayed to America. But when it comes to "Moscow watching," we are more negligent. The ratification of a U.S.-Soviet air travel agreement, which is purely commercial in its significance, is hailed as a momentous step in unfreezing the Cold War. But when close "Moscow watchers" such as the Radio Liberty experts in Munich and New York come up with a searching comparison of the annual "October slogans" published in Pravda, the whole thing passes without much notice. We want to think the best of Russia and the worst of Red China, and so we lead with our hopes, not our brains.

The Soviet "October slogans" this year are heartening in one respect from the American standpoint, for they complete Moscow's business of demoting Red China's Mao Tse-tung to an unperson and the Chinese Communist Party to an unthing. Only the "Chinese peoples" are admitted to friendship with the Soviet Union. The government of Red China is placed as low as Albania on the Soviet totem pole which means that in Moscow it would have to look up in order to see a snake's belly. Yugoslavia, a truly revisionist Marxist nation, is listed in Pravda as more socialist than either Red China or Albania. The listing displeased North Korea's Kim Il Sung, but the Russians rebuffed the Korean's suggestion that Tito wasn't a real socialist.

The deepening rift between Moscow and Peking, however, has not been accomplished by any softening of the "October slogans" insofar as they relate to the United States. For the first time, an "October slogan" refers to the American support of South Vietnam as a "war." Of perhaps greater significance is the omission from the slogans of the old demand that the peoples of Vietnam be granted "the possibility of deciding their affairs on their own." Moscow, so the Radio Liberty Kremlinologist, Christian Duevel, says, "is no longer interested in a democratic solution of the Vietnam question in accordance with the soverign decision of the Vietnam people expressed in an election." The National Liberation Front, the Vietcong political arm, is accepted by Moscow as the "true" representative of the South Vietnamese people without asking for the formality of a secret ballot. And the word "unity" is substituted in the Vietnam "October slogans" for last year's "unification." "Apparently Moscow considers it a closed book that North Vietnam and South Vietnam are a single country.

The disappearance of the note of elasticity from the Soviet approach to peace in Vietnam is an obvious blow to the hopes of Washington peacemakers. And when it comes to U.S. hopes in other parts of the world there is little compensatory balm to be found in Moscow's current sloganeering. For example, the Soviets are subtly wooing the West Germans to follow de Gaulle in his anti-Americanism. Last spring the Russians were still speaking of the "revanchist and militarist forces of West Germany," and assuming that Bonn was Washington's irrevocable ally. Now they are asking that the "German question" be solved on a "peace-loving, genuinely democratic basis." The olive branch to Erhard's successor or successors is already in the mouth of the Soviet dove.

A really ominous change in the "October slogans" relates to the Near East. The slogan addressed to the people of Syria has become virtually identical with the slogan addressed to Algeria, which has long been a Moscow favorite. Instead of saying that the people of Syria are "struggling for a democratic state," the Soviets are now accepting an "independent, national democratic state" as an emerging Syrian reality. This, taken together with Moscow's fraternal salutes to most of the peoples of the Arab world, means solid Soviet backing of the Syrians in their current attacks on Israel.

So where does that leave the U.S. on the rocky road to "detente"? It doesn't mean that we have no cards to play, but it does call for a sharper, harder sense of bargaining.

Golly, Gee, Miss America Suffers from Diastema

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Jane Anne Jayroe, the new Miss America, is a beautiful girl. But have you heard? She has diastema. Diastema means spaces between front teeth, and pictures of Miss America, 1967, reveal a space between two upper front teeth.

Obviously this hasn't been even a mild deterren to Miss Jayroe. She'll hardly be remembered as "the girl with the diastema." She's much too attractive and talented.

It's mentioned merely to dramatize this condition and to say to all of you similarly afflicted, don't despair. You may not be chosen Miss America, but your diastema can be corrected. Indeed, if spaces disturb speech or tend to be a cosmetic embarrassment, correction should be made.

Causes of diastema have a bearing on choice of treatment or no treatment. In young people whose jaws are in the development stage, spaces may be a phase of that development. By the time all teeth have come into place, and jaws fully grown, spaces will have closed.

If however, a space is caused by an overgrown, thick frenum (frenum is the cord that attaches the middle of the lip to the gums), is embedded between the front teeth, that portion of it should be surgically removed. Once cause is eliminated, orthodontic treatment can be employed with promise of excellent results.

Each case must be separately evaluated. Sometimes treatment is simple. Sometimes successful treatment, especially for adults, depends on cooperation among a surgeon for removal of frenum, an orthodontist for bringing teeth together, and a restorative dentist, for splinting teeth in their new position so they won't drift back. In addition to splinting, capping teeth may be required for more perfect cosmetic results.

IMBIBE—AND WALK HOME

The decision as to whether or not a person is sober enough to drive home after drinking, something that is the source of many a postparty argument, may be taken out of human hands entirely, reports Prevention magazine.

Writing in the New England Journal of Medicine, Dr. Carl S. Alexander suggests that a drunkometer could be linked directly to a car's ignition system. To start the engine, the driver would first have to breathe into the drunkometer, which would measure the alcoholic concentration of his breath.

If it were above a fixed level, the meter would not permit the ignition circuit to function. Such a device, says the doctor, would take the decision to drive or not to drive away from the drinking person, whose over-confidence is often directly proportional to his overimbibing, and insure that the car be operated only by a sober driver.

Washington News

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)— This may go down as the year when most Americans could not find the way to translate their obviously numerous anxieties into strong corrective action at the polls.

The one partial exception, observable clearly during the campaign season in Los Angles, Chicago and some other places, was the white backlash — resistance to the peace of Negro advances, resentment against Negro riots and other violent disturbances.

Where this mood spilled over into the Old South, it was less an extension of backlash than a renewal of "frontlash," a revival of ancient southern resistance to racial change.

But backlash and its related southern manifestation were not a universal factor in 1966, some professional political figures believe, nothing was.

At campaign's end, Viet Nam was half puzzle, half bore. Few Americans liked our involvement in the war, but none heard from any source a truly practical alternative.

The feeling grew among voters that if there was a quick solution, President Johnson would long ago have stolen it.

Inflation annoyed a great many people, not least being the housewives across the country who boycotted supermarkets. But they liked the conditions of full employment and high income which produced it.

Crime, rising with headlong speed, freightened most Americans. But they seemed unclear as to how, realistically, to assess the blame politically.

Seen against the backdrop of earlier elections, these matters, in combination if not singly, looked big enough to stir really major voter shifts. Yet most of the professionally taken "attitude polls" indicated throughout the campaign that, again with the occasional exception of the backlash matter, they were not.

It has to be something of a curiosity that so many evidently genuine concerns (one analyst calls them "anxiety points") seem to have produced so little identifiable movement among the voters.

This same analyst argues that these anxieties did not become real issues because new office-seekers offered no clear way out of the various muddles — Viet Nam, inflation, crime.

Only the backlash vote was different. No program had to be offered. That vote could speak plainly as a "slow down" signal in the civil rights field.

It is also being contended, sometimes by the most expert pollsters, that Americans today are so upset by lingering anxieties that they have become disgusted — and increasingly distrustful fo the prospect that any politicians, Democratic or Republican, will provide enduring solutions to their problems.

The net consequences of such attitudes, obviously, is to reduce the impact at the polls of concerns which, by any sane measure, seem major indeed. Big as they are, they tend to wash out.

What is left, in the view of at least two seasoned political judges, is the voter's normal impulse to correct political imbalance of the sort visited upon the nation by the Goldwater debacle of 1964.

Where the Republicans show gains in 1966, these men and some others are saying, it will generally reflect an almost instinctive voter judgment that the terrible two-party disparities produced in 1964 are politically unhealthy and should be sharply altered.

Nobody appears to be saying the Americans have learned to live with their anxieties. There is too much noisy grumbling for that to be so. But it is being argued, unmistakably, that they have learned not to act at the polls on their grievances unless they see brightly marked, loudly beckoning directions to move toward.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

October brought out three new stamps, the Beautification of America, the Great River Road, and the Servicemen-Savings Bond stamp. Nov. 1 the new Christmas stamp came out, and Nov. 17, Mary Cassatt, the artist is honored with a stamp. These are all five cent stamps, and can be had at any of the U. S. Post Offices. Some save a plate block, which is four stamps with the number. These stamps can always be used for postage. In December a five dollar stamp will come out honoring John Bassett Moore. I do not know what such a stamp can be used for, unless a heavy package, and how many will buy them. The UN came out with a Coffee Agreement Stamp, Sept. 19, both a 5 cent and 11 cent stamp, and for which I thought of a decoration, of an old-fashioned red and gold coffee mill, of which I had several.

There are many professional firms who use First Day of Issue covers to send to their clients, and arrange for the proper date to send them. I have before me such a cover prepared by Art Craft, an engraving appears on each envelope. On the 175th Anniversary of the Bill of Rights stamp (1791-1966) appears the portrait of "George Mason, Virginian statesman and participant in the constitutional convention, whose concern for personal liberties influenced adoption of the Bill of Rights." I wonder how George Mason would have looked at the forceful removal of a neighborhood, people forced to sell their homesteads, for the price set by those in power. I also wonder how Washington, Jefferson and Patrick Henry would have looked at this present situation which is happening in the first capitol of New York State. I am afraid that the public little knows the tears and anguish in the hearts of those women who have to sell their homes and move into strange neighborhoods as tenants.

Each cover, or envelope, besides being a First Day Cover with stamp, and historic information and illustration contains a letter. In this case it is sent out by United Air Lines, who tie in the history of the stamp with their service as air lines. One letter on the above stamp reads: "Thomas Jefferson wrote, '. . . a bill of rights is what the people are entitled to against every nation on earth.' This first-day cover and stamp commemorate adoption of the U. S. Bill of Rights nearly 175 years ago. Issue date conjoins with the National Education Association Convention in Miami Beach."

The letter further reads: "Stemming from the Magna Carta and the English Bill of Rights, our own Bill of Rights grew to be of vital concern to early U. S. citizens in whom the struggle for independence had inculcated a broadening awareness of the concept of equality. It is of equal concern to today's citizen, for it goes to the very heart of our way of life, protecting us from unreasonable search and seizure . . . assuring prompt, fair trial . . . guaranteeing freedom of speech, of the press, and of religion." Then the United Air Lines brings in the fact, that "Inherent in freedom is choice . . . the broad choice you enjoy in the friendly skies of United . . . in travel . . ."

Somehow today, too much power is given to an appointed or elected individual, and if he pushes this power, little freedom will be left for each individual. I feel, for instance, our aldermen should get together with the people of the wards, if possible before each Common Council meeting. We trust them, but because of the changing times daily, it would be of interest to them, I think, to know what people in his ward think. Frank Sass, of the 7th did it, when he was alderman.

Business Week in Review

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The business community may have more influence in shaping government economic policy in the wake of Tuesday's election.

Big Republican gains in Congress were interpreted by some during the week as likely to provide a rein on federal expenditures and ease some of the pressure for a tax increase to curb inflation.

Prices Rallied

Stock prices rallied briskly on news of the Republican gains. Brokers saw the returns as a hope for a cutback in federal spending and less Treasury borrowing, which would relieve upward pressure on interest rates.

The Republicans will consider going along with higher taxes only if President Johnson submits an austerity budget drastically cutting "Great Society" spending, said Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, the ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee.

Even then Johnson would have to demonstrate that a tax increase was necessary, Bynres said.

Byrnes said the Republicans would seek three more seats on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee. It will be minus three defeated Democrats who usually supported the administration.

Will Take Over

In the Senate, John J. Sparkman of Alabama will take over as chairman of the Banking Committee, which will be minus a leading liberal Democrat, Paul H. Douglas. Charles H. Percy's victory in Illinois eliminated Douglas, who would have been chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee.

Bankers said the 90th Congress might be less inclined than the 89th to swallow deliberately incurred budget deficits.

For months businessmen and economists, Republicans and Democrats, have speculated about the possibility of a tax increase after the election, a little something to take some of the steam out of an economy swollen by heavy spending for the war in Viet Nam and the Great Society.

Interest rates have soared as the Federal Reserve system applied brakes.

During the week, Alfred Hayes, the New York Federal Reserve Bank president, said there still was a clear and present danger of inflation, despite some cooling off in recent weeks.

Advocates Hike

He added he still advocates a tax increase.

Hayes challenged President Johnson's statement that there "had been a very healthy movement toward price stability in recent weeks."

Hayes said the administration's wage-price guidelines had been threatened with extinction.

"If these demands are granted and there seems to be not enough determination to resist them, there will be inevitable upward pressure on prices," Hayes said.

A spokesman for International Harvester cited wage pressures this week as one reason the company was joining the move to increase farm equipment prices.

Has C.O.L Clause

"We have a cost-of-living clause in our contract so our wages have gone up several times this year," he said.

International Harvester, Deere & Co., Allis-Chalmers and J.I. Case raised the prices of tractors, combines, plows and corn pickers two to nine per cent.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman criticized the increases, and said they added to inflationary pressures on the economy.

"The increases are likely to be disturbing to housewives who are now picketing grocery chains for lower food prices," Freeman said.

He estimated farmers would pay an additional $200 million for operating equipment next year.

That wasn't the only bad news for farmers.

International Minerals & Chemical Corp. announced it would raise the price of potash, a key fertilizer material, five to seven per cent Jan. 1.

List Others

The week's round of price increases also included water treatment equipment, alum used by the pulp and paper industry and steel used to make drills, tool bits and cutting tools.

Stainless steel went up too, just a week after the price of nickel was increased. Nickel is used in stainless steel. It also is used in nickel-bearing copper alloys, and those prices have gone up, too.

Steel production has declined for four straight weeks. But the output for the year is slightly ahead of a year ago.

Automobile production was cut by storms and a strike at a General Motors plant. Production was seven per cent less than a year ago.

The Commerce Department during the week blamed a slackening of automobile sales for a decline in corporate profits in the three months ended Sept. 30.

Slightly Lower

Profits ran at a seasonally adjusted rate of $79.5 billion, down from a record $80 billion in the first quarter and $79.9 billion in the second.

The Commerce Department also reported that the gross national product — the total output of goods and services — rose more slowly than originally estimated. The gain from the June quarter was $12.3 billion, down from the $13.7 billion previously estimated, making the seasonally adjusted annual rate $744.6 billion.

William B. Camp, a Texan, was named by President Johnson to succeed his chief the controversial James J. Saxon, as controller of the currency.

Ralph S. Saul, a lawyer and former Securities and Exchange Commission official succeeded Edwin D. Etherington as president of the American Stock Exchange.

Etherington, who resigned to become president of Wesleyan University, chided the SEC in his farewell address. He criticized what he called premature government efforts to regulate some aspects of the securities industry.

Fashion Show Set Nov. 21 by Guild At St. Joseph's

NEW PALTZ—Tickets for the coming fashion show sponsored by the Women's Guild of St. Joseph's Church of New Paltz, are on sale at the following New Paltz shops: The Yarn Barn, the Ann Marie Shop, the Hasbrouck Flower Shop and the Little Red House of Gifts.

The event will be held Nov. 21 at 8 p. m. in the parish hall.

Posters giving all of the pertinent information for the show are distributed in the town of New Paltz. These were done by Mrs. George Hillman, Mrs. Anthony Clinquemani and Mrs. Herbert Gage.

Joint Teachers Meeting Slated

Monday, Nov. 14, Dr. George Bond, principal of the Campus School and John Wyman, principal of the New Paltz High School, will co-sponsor a joint meeting of the New Paltz Central Junior and Senior High School teachers and the junior high school teachers of the Campus School. The purpose of the meeting is to study and discuss mutual problems, working together and seeing that the children get the best educational programs possible.

Thursday, Nov. 17, the first report of the school year will go out to the parents of children in grades 4-9. The school would like to emphasize that no report card can tell fully of a child's progress in school and parents are urged to visit the teachers when need is indicated.

No Objections To Ulster Town Budget; Adopted

There was no expressed objection to the Town of Ulster preliminary budget as presented at a public hearing Thursday evening and following the public hearing the Town Board met and adopted the budget. Attending were approximately 25 persons, several of whom asked questions in regard to the budget figures.

Under a new legal requirement the town superintendent of highways moneys are included in the General Fund item.

Must Raise $149,122

It was reported that it will be necessary to raise by local taxation the sum of $149,122 to operate the general town business during 1967.

State reimbursements will be increased from $55,334.40 for the current year to $63,236.85 in 1967. This was explained by Supervisor Thaddeus Musialkiewicz as due to the results of the recent special census. State reimbursement is based on a per capita basis.

Total estimated revenue for 1967 is $145,136.85 which when applied against the needs for the General Fund will leave $3,985.15 to be raised by local taxation for town operation. This will be a decrease of 40 cents per $1,000 of assessment over the current year. In 1966 the rate was 83 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation and for 1967 it will be 43 cents per $1,000, exclusive of special districts.

The town's share of the county charges is unknown since the county budget had not been completed and the amount charged back to the towns by the county is presently unknown.

The total amount for highway purposes in 1967 was increased $9,929.94 over the current year. The total amount to be raised for highway purposes in the 1967 budget is $132,635.80, which will give a highway tax rate of $14.39 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, an increase of 47 cents over the 1966 rate.

Increase Facilities

In the Ulster Water District, where extensive improvements are underway to increase facilities, it will be necessary to raise by local tax on the properties in the water district the sum of $72,311. This will give a water district tax rate of $12.18 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is an increase of only 95 cents over the 1966 tax rate.

The Town Board has no jurisdiction over the budget submitted by the fire commissioners for fire protection in the fire district.

At the public hearing members of the Town Board was complimented by some of the residents of the town on the budget and the ability of the town board to "hold a tight line" on budget increases.

Recommend

ence of executives or advisory board administratively attached to the UCS. Other recommendations not previously published include prepration of general analysis of social trends and social forecasts annually, and UCS creation of capital funds review and study committee to develop a long range plan based on current and projected facts and conditions.

The committee noted in its report that UCS membership should be composed of any organization with an interest in the fields of health, welfare, character building and recreation. Member organizations should include not only those agencies participating directly in fund raising campaigns but all community service organizations, tax supported or private.

Membership for Interested

Membership, the committee contends, should be open to all governmental agencies, departments and bureaus, whether town, village, city, county or state. Membership in UCS would be open to any individual who shares with UCS a common interest and concern in the fields of health, welfare, character-building and recreation.

The committee further notes membership could be called a General Assembly, and the power and identity of the corporation should reside in the membership. The Assembly would also serve as an invaluable role as a communication link between UCS and the community at large.

The committee said the General Assembly should meet at least three times yearly to act as a forum and sounding-board for broad public issues such as race relations, school drop-outs, poverty.

Under the plan a board of directors would be elected from the membership. In addition, the Board could include—as ex-officio members with full power to vote—the capital funds review committee chairman, the advisory committee chairman and chairmen of the campaign committee, budget and planning committees, public relations and nominating committees the chief executive officers or an officially appointed designee of the City of Kingston and County of Ulster.

The Citizens Survey Committee further recommends the proposed UCS be designed to include tand involve all muncipalities of Ulster County, with a professional staff, trained and experienced, regarded as essential for the United Community Services.

Ground Fire . . .

of Saigon in War Zone C, U. S. round forces reported killing 14 Viet Cong Friday and finding 14 more bodies.

928 Cong Killed

This brought to 928 the number of Viet Cong officially reported killed during Operation Attleboro, into which the largest U. S. force of the war has been thrown. Massed against the Viet Cong 9th Division are the equivalent of two U. S. divisions or about 30,000 men.

As the enemy launched its mortar barrage against the 196th Brigade, the Americans called in planes to drop flares and C46s equipped with rapid-fire weapons to suppress the attack.

Also in the Tay Ninh action, a unit of the 1st Infantry Division today uncovered a steel underground bunker 17 miles northeast of Tay Ninh City. A spokesman said the bunker contained and 1,000 rifle grenades. The latest haul raised to more than 23,300 the number of enemy grenades seized in the operation. U.S. forces also have captured 490 claymore antipersonnel mines, destroyed 206 bunkers, tunnels and caves and seized 674 tons of rice.

In support of the ground troops, U.S. B52 bombers raided Viet Cong positions in Tay Ninh Province twice in less than 24 hours. The first raid struck Friday night 25 miles northeast of Tay Ninh.

Only 78 Missions

The five planes shot down over North Viet Nam represented an unusually high percentage inasmuch as American pilots flew only 78 bombing missions Friday, about half the number flown with better weather.

The losses raised to 426 the number of planes reported downed over the north.

The worst single day's losses was last Aug. 7 when seven U.S. planes went down over North Viet Nam.

Of the five shot down Friday, two were Air Force F4C Phantoms with two crew men aboard each. The others were an Air Force F105 Thunderchief, a Marine Corps F8 Crusader and an Air Force propeller-driven Skyraider, each with one flier aboard. Only the Skyraider pilot was rescued.

Flew 513 Sorties

Over South Viet Nam, U.S. pilots flew 513 sorties, hitting at enemy troop concentrations, camps, water traffic and fortified positions. South Vietnamese pilots flew 174 combat sorties.

In the downing of the Huey helicopters Friday, U.S. headquarters said there were heavy casualties to the crews.

The choppers were shot down during a continuation of Operation Paul Revere IV in the central highlands near the Plei Djereng Green Beret camp, 230 miles north of Saigon.

In this action, U.S. infantry men reported killing 10 Communists Friday to raise the total enemy reported killed since the operation started Oct. 18 to 25.

South Vietnamese headquarters also reported fighting in the central highlands. A unit of Vietnamese irregulars clashed with a Viet Cong force 40 miles west of Pleiku and about 220 miles northeast of Saigon. The government force called in air strikes and reported later that the strikes killed 106 Viet Cong.

Enough Force

Elsewhere units of the 1st Brigade, 101st Airborne Division, engaged a mixed North Vietnamese-Viet Cong force 16 miles northwest of the central coastal city of Tuy Hoa. The airborne troops reported killing 8 and capturing 23 of the enemy.

U.S. Marines, operating 13 miles south of Da Nang, killed 12 Viet Cong in scattered skirmishes Friday, a U.S. spokesman said.

Ten American nurses assigned to the 45th Surgical Hospital with the 196th scrambled for cover as the mortar shells began exploding.

"We dropped everything, grabbed our helmets and flak jackets and ran to our foxholes," said the chief nurse, Maj. Sara N. Lundy of Brewton, Ala. "All of the nurses were in dugouts within 20 seconds after the first explosion."

Report No Hits

None of the rounds fell near the hospital, which has not yet been placed in operation.

The Communists lobbed about 200 rounds at the 1st Division's command post at Dau Tieng, inflicting light casualties. The division's armed helicopters, artillery and mortars returned the fire.

An Associated Press correspondent said the attack, which began about midnight and lasted an hour and a half, apparently was aimed at the helicopters, but the rounds fell at one end of the landing strip and none of the aircraft was damaged.

A spokesman has described the operation as the biggest American push of the war. Saigon command officials said 900 enemy have been killed in the operation thus far, while overall U.S. casualties officially are termed light.

In other developments:

— A Viet Cong representative claimed Vietnamese Communists have not accepted offers of volunteers to help fight because they are convinced they can win by themselves.

Accused in Sign Case

Charged with malicious mischief Francis Gillespie, 17, of 155 Minturn Street, Port Ewen, today pleaded innocent before City Judge Rubert A. Richter and received an adjournment until Nov. 14. He was arrested early this morning by Officer Meyer Levy who accused the youth of pulling down a no parking sign at the Trailways bus terminal. The youth posted $100 bail and was released.

Polls Show Most Citizens Against Lottery Drafting

By W. JOYNES MACFARLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Americans oppose substitution of a lottery for the present draft system, a polling organization told a national conference on the draft today.

"The vast majority of Americans favor drafting young men for military service," Louis Harris & Associates said in a report presented at a luncheon session.

The memorandum to Gus Tyler, director of special projects for the American Veterans Committee which is sponsoring the conference, added:

All Types Included

"This support is expressed almost equally by those who have relatives in the armed forces, those who say they have a family member eligible to be drafted, and those who are not personally involved in the Viet Nam war."

Representatives of educational, professional, youth women's, labor, business, veteran, church, farm and other national organizations are attending the conference, which ends today. It was called to provide a national forum for discussion of the prsent draft system and of possible alternatives.

Speakers Friday noted that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had been quoted this week as saying a lottery might correct some deficiencies in the present system.

Totals See-Saw

The Harris memorandum reported that a poll in March 1965 found that 64 per cent of those queried said they favored the draft. Later that year the unity mounted to 90 per cent but by August this year the support had slipped to 79 per cent, it said.

"Clearly, though, the (Selective Service) system is thought to work," the memorandum continued.

"There is little support for a form of lotterv under which all would have an equal chance for being drafted. By almost three to one, 73 per cent to 27 per cent, the public rejects substituting the lottery idea for he current system."

Report 3 Minor Mishaps Friday

Three minor traffic accidents in various sections of Ulster County were reported today by State Police at the Lake Katrine barracks, who said all mishaps occurred Friday evening. In the first such accident, at 5:15 p. m. on Boice's Lane, just off Route 9W, cars operated by Frank Benicase, 32, of 87 Grant Street, Kingston, and Angelo Staccio, 64, of Glasco, were in collision. Troopers said the Benicase vehicle was going west on Boice's Lane when the Staccio car, attempting to cross the highway from one parking lot to another, was struck on the left side by the front of the other auto. No injuries were reported in the mishap, but Staccio was cited for failure to yield the right of way and will appear later before Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge, Town of Ulster.

Minutes later, at 5:20 p. m. two cars were involved in a collision on Route 32, about 100 feet south of Route 199, near the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. Taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors ambulance were the drivers of the two vehicles, Frank Soranno, 75, of Route 1, Kingston, and Rudolph Mauro Jr., 18, of Glasco. They were later released and no injuries were reported. The Soranno car was entering Route 32 from Route 199 as it came off the bridge to turn south. The Mauro vehicle, southbound on Route 32, braked and skidded into the rear of the other automobile. No arrests were reported by investigating trooper, Carl Van Wagenen.

A third accident, involving a deer, was reported at 10 p. m. on Route 209, Town of Marbletown. William Rothberg, 35, of Kerhonkson, was uninjured when his southbound vehicle hit a deer, which entered the southbound lane. No arrest was made and Rothberg claimed and kept the deer. Troopers said the front of his car was only slightly damaged.

The Mekong Delta is a key area for the Communist Viet Cong.

More than half of South Viet Nam's 15 million people live in the delta. It was once one of the world's richest rice- producing areas.

Communists recruit thousands of troops there and tax people living in the delta for food and supplies.

Quang, who has a reputation as an able field commander, has been criticized for allowing the Viet Cong to reach accommodation with his troops at the lowest level.

This means that militia soldiers in small jungle outposts don't shoot at the Viet Cong and the guerrillas in turn leave Quang's men alone.

pagos Islands and ending in the Atlantic southeast of Brazil.

Scores of scientists from around the world roamed South American skies in more than two dozen planes, aiming cameras and other equipment at the phenomenon. Sounding rockets were fired from bases in Brazil and Argentina and scores of balloons and shipboard cameras were brought into play.

This dramatic treat of nature occurs only when a new moon lines itself directly between the sun and the earth when the moon is at its closest distance to earh.

The rendezvous with the eclipse was inserted back in the Gemini 12 flight plan after it once had been erased. A faulty fuel pump on the Agena target satellite forced cancellation of a plan to use the Agena to shoot to an altitude of 460 miles and resulted in a juggling of the plan.

Bonus For Scientists

Good pictures from Gemini 12 would be a bonus for scientists who had given up hope for the experiment when the launching date skipped from Wednesday until Friday.

Had Lovell and Aldrin blasted off on schedule Wednesday, Aldrin had planned to open his hatch and, wearing a protective visor, was to snap ultra-violet and other photos that would not be degraded by the spacecraft window.

Because of the launch postponement, this could not be worked into the flight plan without considerable re-arranging, so the experiment was dropped.

But the Agena problem Friday night resulted in another realignment. It prevented the astronauts from firing the Agena engine to shoot Gemini 12 from a 185-mile to a 460-mile-high orbit.

Flight controlers consulted their computers and found that by carefully firing smaller engines on the Agena they could put Gemini 12 in position for the solar photography.

But the open hatch plan could not be worked in.

Told of Change

"So that eclipse got to us after all," Lovell quipped when told of the change in plans.

The Agena firing put the astronauts in a slightly elliptical orbit ranging from 160 to 177 miles — and then they went to sleep early, still docked to the Agena.

The change left Navy Capt. Lovell and Air Force Maj. Aldrin with a busy Saturday schedule.

Shortly after noon, Aldrin planned to open his hatch and poke his head into space to take a series of scientific photographs of stars, to evaluate his ability to perform simple tasks while firmly tethered, and to set up a handrail to help him move about on a space walk scheduled Sunday.

Flight director Glynn Lunney reported the Agena fuel pump problem was detected by the ground as the rocket propelled itself into orbit from Cape Kennedy Friday.

Not a Deterrent

He said the trouble was not considered a deterrent to a docking and the Gemini 12 launching went on schedule 99 minutes later, at 3:47 p.m.

Major item lost by the failure to go to the high altitude was a plan by Aldrin to take terrain and weather pictures from 260 miles above the United States.

Once airborne, the astronauts flew a near-perfect course in tracking the Agena target across the skies. They caught it during the third orbit after a 64,000-mile chase that took 3½ hours.

Because of a failure in the spacecraft radar system, they had to rely more than intended on help from the ground.

"We're docked." Lovell exclaimed minutes after the rendezvous when he slipped the Gemini nose into an Agena docking collar.

They were the fourth pair of Gemini astronauts to accomplish a space linkup, providing additional confidence for later man-to- the-moon flights. Many of the maneuvers executed Friday night were similar to those that Apollo astronauts must make on their return trip from the moon.

After both men tried their hand at the controls, undocking and docking, they reported a control problem with the Agena. The 26-foot target was rolling slowly, turning the attached Gemini with it.

"We're kind of unhappy with the Agena," Lovell reported. "It looked like it was coming back around. Now it appears to be wandering around."

Mission Control Center in Houston, Tex., figured that during an undocking, the Agena was either bumped by the Agena or upset slightly by Gemini thruster firing.

The ground advised the astronauts to shift to a new tighter flight control system.

Several minutes later, Lovell announced. "The control system now seems okay. The Agena is holding its attitude very good."

With the control problem resolved, the astronauts were able to fire the smaller Agena engine, with 200 pounds of thrust, to set up the eclipse rendezvous. Otherwise, they would have had to use valuable spacecraft fuel for the maneuver.

The four-day flight, last in the Gemini series, is to end Tuesday with a landing in the western Atlantic.

Greene Man Is Fined

Fines aggregating $45 were imposed today by City Judge Hubert A. Richter after Robert H. Ivery, 28, of 132 Main Street, Catskill, pleaded guilty to two motor vehicle violations. Officer Otto Short cited Ivery for driving the wrong way on a one-way street and operating an unregistered motor vehicle.

City Boy Is Missing

Kingston police reported at 11:20 a. m. today that Joseph Forte, 15, of 14 Deyo Street, who had been reported missing since yesterday afternoon, had not returned home. The boy was last seen by his mother at 4 p. m. on North Front Street. He is described as follows: brown eyes, long black hair, five feet, nine inches tall, weighing 150 pounds. When last seen he was wearing a shirt with an Army insignia on the pocket and black pants, police said.

was an older brother of Sheppard. Dr. Stephen Sheppard, and Dorothy Sheppard, the wife of the defendant's other brother, Dr. Richard Sheppard.

Mrs. Sheppard testified that when she and her husband went to the Samuel Sheppard house to check the furnace Nov. 11, 1954, she found a key under a kitchen wastebasket. The police officer accompanying them found that the key fit the back door, she said. Mrs. Sheppard did not testify at the first trial.

X-Ray Helps Sam

Dr. Stephen said an X Ray taken the morning of the slaying after Sheppard was admitted to Bay View Hospital showed a "chip fracture of the second cervical vertebra" about one and one-half inches below the base of the skull.

Under questioning by the prosecution, Stephen said X Rays taken July 6 did not confirm the break.

The 46-year-old osteopath said police raised no objection as he took his brother from the house to the hospital, three miles away, where the three Sheppard brothers and their father were staff members.

The doctor, who was a witness in the first trial said that 10 days after the slaying, J. Spencer Houk — then mayor of Bay Village and one of the first persons at the house the morning of the slaying — asked them to persuade the defendant to plead guilty to manslaughter.

Houk, who lived three houses from the Sheppards, had denied this in earlier testimony as a state witness.

came to a halt during October, however, because of her falling reserves. U.S. officials saw this as only temporary but expressed hope that the worst of the French gold drain may be over.

The French, although still in debt to this country, are ahead in their payments on their World War II and postwar era debt. The latest payment, in September, left a balance of less than $400 million of the approximately $2.5 billion borrowed.

But France still owes $6.7 billion, including interest, on her World War I debt and no payments have been made on that since 1932. In 1953, this country agreed that no further World War I payments need be made until German reparations were settled, an unlikely event unless and until Germany is reunified.

The total drain on U.S. gold during the same fiscal year was $519.7 million, including $378.4 net sales to foreign countries. The government also sells gold for domestic industrial and artistic use.

Senate race." (Edward Brooke defeated Democrat Endicott Peabody in that state to become the first Negro to win election to the Senate.)

Resnick reportedly called for a statewide primary "so that the people will have the choice, and not just the party leaders. Perhaps the Democarts could come up with a genuine winner then."

Noting that all three Democratic Congressmen from the Hudson Valley won reelection, Resnick was quoted, "We definitely have a larger voice in party affair now." He said he may have moved up as many as 150 places on the seniority lists in Congress because of resignations, new congressmen elected on Tuesday and deaths.

Reports noted that Resnick also said he believes he has an outside chance" to be named chairman of a House Agriculture subcommittee.

No arrest was made in the road death which went into the record books as the 39th traffic fatality in Dutchess County for 1966. It was the second highway accident this week in the county and the second reported Friday. Earlier in the day, Donald Teal Jr., 17, of Pleasant Valley, died in a traffic accident on the Dutchess Turnpike, Town of Pleasant Valley, while en route from college to attend the wedding of a sister, to become Dutchess County's 41st road victim this year.

A U. S. spokesman said American troops had also found about 1,200 gas grenades among enemy arms and ammunition spotted in abandoned tunnels Thursday. He said they were not of U. S. manufacture.

The gas in the grenades was described as nonpoisonous, but the disclosure could ruin the propaganda effect of the Soviet bloc resolution.

Csatorday claimed that nonlethal gases can also take lives by increasing the incidence of disease.

George Dietz, 76 Arlington Judge, Dies in Hospital

George C. Dietz, 76, veteran Town of Poughkeepsie justice of the peace and former chairman of the Town of Poughkeepsie Republican Committee, died Friday night at Vassar Hospital after a lingering illness.

He was born in Poughkeepsie on Nov. 17, 1889, son of the late Jacob and Julia Schuler Dietz. He resided at 40 Manchester Road, Arlington, with his wife Florence Griffin Dietz. He held the office ot justice of the peace from 1930 until the time of his death. He was a member of Arlington Engine Co. and served several offices in that unit and was a former fire commissioner.

He was widely known throughout the country and Canada for prize poultry he raised and he held countless number of awards for entries in top poultry shows at fairs and at other events. Besides his wife he is survived by several nephews including former Poughkeepsie mayor Thomes J. Dietz, an attorney.

Funeral will be held Monday, Nov. 14 at the Mulvey Funeral Home, 211 Mansion Street, Poughkeepsie, at 9 a .m. thence to Holy Trinity Church, Arlington, where at 9:30 a. m. a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening and Sunday afternoon and evening.

Liuni Case . . .

Beth; say Fitzsimmons alone has blocked such a move.

Cite Birth Defect

Although much has been said of the difference in ethnic background between Mr. and Mrs. Liuni and Beth, public statements by the Welfare Commissioner cited that medical reasons were involved. He referred to a "serious birth defect" suffered by Beth which delayed plans for "permanent adoptive placement." The Liuni family objects strongly to the use of the word "serious;" say the defect hinted at is a birthmark on the side of her left temple about the size of a quarter. The mark is receding, they say, and could be completely gone by the time she is a teenager.

Fitzsimmons has also said that "there was another medical consideration not involving the child, which was of great concern to our medical consultants as well as myself."

On this point, the Resnick office accuses the commissioner of making "vague and sinister references." Resnick's spokesman said Fitzsimmons was obviously referring to the fact that Mrs. Liuni spent about a month in the hospital in late 1965 and has made no secret of the fact that, through overwork, she suffered a physical or mental breakdown at that time.

Michael Liuni puts it this way: "We were set up as a foster home in 1962 and received our first child, Beth, in July of that year when she was five days old. We subsequently had three other children, two boys and a girl, all received at five days old and all of whom stayed with us from five to 10 months before being taken back for adoption. At one point in time, we had three children for a month — an infant girl placed with us until the 10-month-old boy was removed, although we did not know he was leaving."

Taken as Favor

Liuni says that, during the time they had three children, the third was taken "as a favor to Welfare because they were pressed for a home." At this point, he says, his wife became overworked and this, coupled with the fact that the 10-month-old boy, to whom they had become very attached, was removed—resulted in her hospitalization.

For all these reasons, Congressman Resnick has charged that Commissioner Fitzsimmons is trying to "becloud the real issues" and that his stand that he cannot talk about the case because it is in the courts, is "pure hogwash." He said it is a matter of record that no medical testimony of any value was offered by the commissioner for his side of the case regarding Mrs. Liuni's health in hearings before Judge Elwyn. Medical testimony was offered in court by a Kingston psychiatrist, however, he said, that Mrs. Liuni, Beth, and all other members of the Liuni family were "mentally healthy and fit."

The case took yet another turn today when Douglas Dye, Republican supervisor of the Town of Kingston, made known he had sent a telegram to Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, now serving in the absence of vacationing Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Dye, who also serves as chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Public Welfare Committee, appealed to Wilson to call a joint meeting between State Welfare Commissioner George Wyman, Lt. Gov. Wilson and Dye. He asked the meeting because of "poor communications from the State Welfare Department and contradictory reports attributed to Wyman daily." He noted the "adverse publicity" for local, county and state officials caused by the case through "irresponsible accusations being made by public and private officials." He said the welfare agencies are "being greatly hampered", and that it is of "extreme importance that the true facts are known immediately." Such a joint meeting, he feels, would accomplish this.

station. He then made his escape in what was described to troopers as a green 1956 Oldsmobile sedan.

The owner of the service station, Douglas Talbot told The Freeman that the holdup was the first one at his station in the several years he has operated it. "It'll be the last one too," Talbot said. "We won't be open nights anymore."

Troopers said they have sealed the area, posting troopers at the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge, the Mid-Hudson Bridge, and the Kingston - Rhinecliff Bridge. Roadblocks have also been set up on all major roads in the area.

Troopers surmized that the gunman was stil in the immediate area since they were notified immediately after the holdup and had their roadblocks set within half an hour.

Investigating troopers were under the direction of Lt. Sam Crodelle assisted by Troopers Fred Haight, Charles Lane and Sean O'Brien.

New Paltz College Offering Two French Productions

Theatre-goers who remember some of their high school or college French are invited to performances of two French plays, one representative of the "theatre of the absurd" school, the other a farce, at State University College, New Paltz, 8 p. m. Nov. 19 and 20 in the College Theatre.

The comedy, "L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Le Parle" — liberal translation: "English as She Is Spoke" — will be less taxing to the memory because it is freely sprinkled with English, according to the College's French club, Le Cercle Francais, sponsor of the productions.

The second play, "La Cantatrice Chauve," by Eugene Ionesco, has become a classic in the modern "theatre of the absurd." "The Bald Soprano" has been called a comprehensible introduction to avant-grade literary trends. "Le Cercle Francais" says that its production, offering unusual casting and interpretation, are in themselves "avant-garde or better, absurd on absurd."

Starring in "The Bald Soprano" are Marianne Hamlin, Deonanan Oodit, Roseann O'Reilly, Ed Olson, Marilyn Weber, and Marni Adler.

"English Such as One Speaks It" will feature Kitty Foyle, Jean Francois Albanes, Bill Roenig, Michel Oakleaf, Arnoldo Sehweret, Shola Isadi, and Nii Kotey.

Director is Miss Helen Yost, instructor of French at New Paltz, whose unusual productions in the past have attracted large audiences for performances of the French club's special acting troupe, "Jouers."

Review Book, Plan Tea at Club Meeting

A book review on "Those Who Love," a biography of John and Abigail Adams by Irving Stone, was presented by Mrs. Raymond Johnson at a meeting of Sorosis of Kingston at the home of Mrs. Fred Ertel on Monday.

Mrs. Johnson said Stone apparently used less "embellishments of fiction" in this book than in many others he has written, painting a picture of the couple through letters made available to him.

During the meeting, program chairman Mrs. William Rylance, said a student at Bard College, whose home is in Uganda, will be a guest—clad in native dress—at a CARE tea being held Nov. 21 in the Presbyterian Church parlor. Also present will be a girl from Hong Kong studying at the State University at New Paltz. All Sorosis members will have guest privileges at the tea she said.

In other business conducted by Mrs. Thomas Reynolds Sr., club president, Mrs. John Gill was welcomed as a new member and announcement was made that Mrs. Maureen C. Gray, supervisor of child welfare for the county's Department of Public Welfare, and Miss Lucille Bentivegna, speech therapist in the Kingston School System, will speak at the Kingston School Monday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p. m.

Miss Joan Jacobs Is Bride - Elect

Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs, Maple Avenue, Kingston, have announced the engagement of their daughter Joan, to Robert D. Pursell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pursell, Wappingers Falls.

Miss Jacobs was graduated from Highland High School in 1964. She is employed with the New York Telephone Company in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Pursell was graduated from Roy C. Ketcham High School, Wappingers, in 1963 and is employed at the Formula Two Triumph Sales Company.

A spring wedding is planned.

1,200 Gather at Community Theater For Firkusny Solo

Rudolph Firkusny was guest soloist at the opening concert of the Hurson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra Monday evening at the Community Theatre. He received a tremendous ovation from the more than 1200 in attendance, who obviously enjoyed his rendition of Beethoven's Piano Concert in G Minor.

The orchestra performed under the spirited conducting of Pierre Monteux. The program opened with the world premier of 'A Paris Overture', written by Donald Waxman. Also heard was Schumann's Symphony No. 2 in C Major.

A feature of the concert was the new back wall, designed by Hal Boyer of Saugerties, which gave an attractive setting for the orchestra as well as improving acoustics throughout the thertre.

A short intermission talk was given by Mrs. Sidney Miller, president of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society. Mrs. Miller spoke of the future expansion of the orchestra, made possible through the support of the concert series, and the recognition of the orchestra through the Ford Foundation Grant.

Hold Fire Company Supper

A family night supper, for members of Glenford Engine Company No. 4 and the Ladies Auxiliary, was held at the Glenford Fire House Saturday with some 70 persons attending.

Highlights included films for the children, community singing and an assortment of food. In charge of refreshments were Mrs. Calvin Warnecke, Mrs. Rudolph Preisendorfer, Mrs. Stanley Tentnowski and Mrs. Keith Ogden.

Highland Clinches UCAL Title, Tops Wallkill, 20-0

Cappillino's Two TD Passes Spark Victory

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Quarterback Greg Cappillino tossed a pair of touchdown passes and Highland clinched its second straight UCAL football championship with a decisive, 20-0, triumph Friday over visiting Wallkill.

With the happy home folks cheering them on, the champions rebounded from their surprising loss at the hands of Rondout Valley to score a second period touchdown and then throw a tenacious defense at the visitors.

Cappillino then erased all upset hopes of the Panthers with a pair of TD passes in the final period.

The victory was the seventh for coach Lem Atkins' team against that lone setback to Rondout. Wallkill finished in the cellar with a 1-6 circuit mark and a 1-7 record for the year.

The champions scored their first touchdown late in the second period, putting a punt in play on the Wallkill 48. They moved to the 14 in four tries.

Fullback Joe Indelicato then plunged to the 11 and halfback Cosmo Trapani banged his way to the one before the bruising Indelicato took it across.

After a scoreless third quarter, Highland started another drive in the fourth stanza after guard Tony Bordi pounced on a Panther fumble on the 22. Cappillino southpawed a 19 yard scoring pass to end Tom Canino and "Cappy" then booted the extra point.

Trying hard to get back into contention, Wallkill was forced to pass. One of the tosses was swiped on the 30 to start the Highlanders on their final scoring march of the crisp afternoon.

The TD came on another Cappillano to Canino pass, this one covering 20 yards. The quarterback booted the ball between the uprights and the championship was clinched.

So strong was the Highland defense that Wallkill was limited to 66 yards net offense. The Panthers were never a threat.

Wilt Scores 37 To Lead Philly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ready or not, here comes Wilt.

After surprising the National Basketball Association during the first month of the season by playing a low-scoring, passing-off kind of game, Philadelpha's Wilt Chamberlain poured in 37 points Friday night, leading the 76ers to a 126-113 home-court victory over Chicago.

Chamberlain, who has led the league in scoring ever since he joined it seven years ago, wasn't even among the league's top 20 scorers in the first set of statistics released last week.

He was scoring a mere 20.8 points a game, which wasn't even good enough to lead the 76ers. Hal Greer, with a 23.0 average, led the club.

But Friday, especially at critical moments, Wilt became his old self. After Philadelphia had built a 65-45 lead, Chicago pecked away and, with 1:28 left in the game, had reduced the 76ers' margins to 116-113.

Wilt immediately scored four points along with four from Larry Costello and two by Billy Cunningham, putting the game out of Chicago's reach.

During one five - minute stretch in the second period, the 76ers outscored the Bulls 20-1, with Wilt leading the way.

In other NBA games, Boston beat New York, 111-106, Cincinnati took Baltimore 119-104 and San Francisco trounced Los Angeles 132-93.

Dodgers Bow, 4-0

FUKUOKA, Japan (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, unable to overcome a four-run lead after a shaky start, were shut out 4-0 by the Yomiuri Giants-Nishitetsu Lions all-star combination Saturday.

The setback, the fifth against nine victories and one tie, tabbed the Dodgers as the first American baseball club team to lose more than four games on a goodwill barnstorming tour of Japan.

Pine Bush Decisions New Paltz Club, 25-0

Rich Zajicek ran for two touchdowns, one on a glittering 95 yard kickoff return, to lead Pine Bush to a 25-0 UCAL decision Friday at New Paltz.

The Pine Bush ace also passed for a score, intercepted a pass and gave a solid all-around effort to personally beat the punchless Huguenots.

After a scoreless first period, Zajicek put the visitors on the scoreboard with a seven yard run in the second quarter. This climaxed a 53 yard drive.

It took Zajicek just a few seconds to increase that margin. He took the second half kickoff and ran it back 95 yards to paydirt. Several key blocks aided his progress to the end zone. for the extra point.

The visitors clinched matters with two touchdowns in the fourth period. The first game after Zajicek intercepted a pass on his 20. Two plays later, he threw to John Loruenser for a TD, the play covering 75 yards.

Crispell closed the scoring with a 12 yard touchdown toss to Tom Lynch late in the game.

The victory gave Pine Bush a 3-4 league record. New Paltz finished with two victories in seven circuit starts.

Gino Marchetti Back In Baltimore Lineup

By DICK COUCH

The Baltimore Colts plan a little homecoming party for Gino Marchetti—but the Pittsburgh Steelers are set to welcome back Terry Nofsinger with open arms.

Marchetti, perennial All-National Football League defensive end for Baltimore until his retirment in 1964, returns to action Sunday as the Colts, shooting for a share of the Western Division lead, visit the winless Atlanta Falcons.

Nofsinger returns to Pittsburgh after a two-year absence as the stop-gap field general of St. Louis' Eastern Divison pacesetters.

The Colts, who need a victory to tie idle Green Bay for first place in the West, are heavily favored to make Marchetti's homecoming a breeze. The 39-year-old strongman answered the call Thursday when Andy Stynchula was placed on the disabled list.

The surprising Steelers, who stunned Cleveland 16-6 last Sunday, could turn Nofsinger's starting debut for St. Louis into a shambles. Nofsinger, who spent the first four years of his NFL career as a backup quarterback at Pittsburgh, is filling in for Charley Johnson, out for the season following knee surgery.

The Steelers will get two shots at their former teammate in the next three weeks. The Cards draw a bye next Sunday before entertaining Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

Ruined Browns

Rom Smith, who has replaced injured quarterback Bill Nelsen for the Steelers, and a fired-up defense all but ruined the Browns' hopes for a second straight Eastern title last Sunday. The Steelers, however, have lost five straight to the Cards, who will be favored by a touchdown Sunday.

The Dallas Cowboys, trailing St. Louis by 1½ games in the Eastern race, invade Washington Sunday while Philadelphia is at Cleveland, New York at Los Angeles, San Francisco at Chicago and Detroit at Minnesota.

Houston visits Boston, Oakland is at San Diego, New York at Buffalo and Miami at Kansas City in American Football League play.

The Colts, led by Johnny Unitas, will take a four-game winning streak into Atlanta. They are 6-2 over-all while the Falcons have dropped eight straight. Unitas passed for three touchdowns and 342 yards as Baltimore buried Washington 37-10 last Sunday.

St. Louis' Larry Wilson leads the NFL in interceptions with nine and has picked off a pass in seven straight games, tying the league record. The Cardinals lost center Bob DeMarco as well as Johnson in last week's 20-17 victory over New York.

The Cowboys held Philadelphia to 80 net yards last Sunday but were upended 24-23. They have dropped two of their last four starts but still lead the league in offense and defense. They are favored by one touchdown to even the series with Washington at 5-5-2.

Timmy Brown, whose pair of long kickoff returns ruined Dallas last week, leads the Eagles into Cleveland, where the Browns are smarting from their upset loss to Pittsburgh. Cleveland's LeRoy Kelly is the league's No. 1 ground-gainer and tackle Dick Modzelewski will become NFL endurance king Sunday by appearing in his 175th consecutive game.

The Giants, who lost quarterback Earl Morrall before last week's game against St. Louis but almost beat the Cardinals behind sub Gary Wood, have been further depleted by an injury to fullback Chuck Mercein. Tommy McDonald, LA's top receiver, is a doubtful starter, but the Rams' defensive front four figures to give them the edge.

The 49ers must contain Chicago's Gale Sayers, who riddled them for 336 yards and a record six touchdowns last Dec. 12, if they are to get by the Bears and remain alive in the Western race.

Karl Sweetan's passes to Pat Studstill pose the biggest problem for the red hot Vikings, who upended Green Bay 20-17 last week behind Fran Tarkenton's quarterback magic. Sweetan and Studstill have clicked for 19 completions in four games, including last Sunday's 10-10 tie with Chicago.

Taylor Runs 59 To Lead Ganders Over Liberty

Halfback Gordie Taylor scampered 59 yards in the first period and the blazing Ganders of Rondout Valley clinched second place in the UCAL with a 19-7 triumph Friday at Liberty.

In scoring their fourth consecutive victory, coach Chick Meehan's red hot gridders held the home side scoreless until the fourth period.

Taylor put the visitors on the scoreboard after an exchange of punts had given Rondout the ball on the 38. On the second play, the speedy halfback raced 52 yards. He was hit at the line of scrimmage, slipped loose and simply outran the secondary. Fullback Chuck Elston made it a 7-0 game by slamming over for the PAT.

Both sides put on a good defensive duel before the Ganders reached paydirt again. Early in the fourth period, Liberty gambled and lost on a fourth down and short yardage situation and RV put the pigskin in play on the Indians' 38.

Score on Pass

After moving to the 14, the winners took to the air with quarterback John Meehan Jr. flinging to end Doug Doyle for the tally.

Liberty put together its only sustained drive of the afternoon, moving 73 yards. Halfback Al Lotts ignited the surge with a 37 yard scamper. He eventually scored to TD on a five yard run. Tom Wheeler pegged to Bob Sherwood for the point.

With time running out, Liberty was forced to pass. Defensive back Jim Rowe swiped one of the tosses and went 56 yards to close Rondout finished with a 5-3 record but the defeats were accumulated in the first four games. Liberty was 4-4 and tied for third place with Marlboro. It marks the lowest finish for the Indians since they came into the UCAL.

Chargers, Oakland Ready For Key AFL Tilt Sunday

By RON RAPOPORT

San Diego will try to repeat, Oakland will try to go along with the trend and both will anxiously hope for a small miracle in Kansas City.

The Chargers and Raiders meet in San Diego Sunday and the team that loses can just about count itself out of the Western Division race in the American Football League.

Even the winner will not be in an enviable position. The Kansas City Chiefs are leading the division with a 7-2 record and test their three-game winning streak Sunday at home against Miami, last in the Eastern Division.

San Diego is in second place with the West with a 5-3-1 mark and Oakland is one-half game back at 5-4. Thus, somebody is going to have to knock off the Chiefs if the Chargers or Raiders are going to have a chance for the title.

San Diego beat Oakland 29-20 on Sept. 25 and Sunday will have the added advantage of its home field. But the Chargers will have to fight against something of a jinx as far as rematches in the league are concerned.

Three Repeat Winners

In the 11 repeat contests played so far this season, the team that won the first game was victorious in the second only three times. The only repeat winners have been Buffalo, Oakland and Kansas City.

The Chargers will be without Lance Alworth, their superior flanker, who hurt a hamstring ance Alworth, their superior flanker, who hurt a hamstring muscle last week against the Chiefs. Clem Daniels leads the Raider attack — he's fourth in the league in rushing and tied for 10th in pass receiving — that has carried Oakland to victories in four of its last five games.

Kansas City figures to have an easy time of it with Miami, which has won just two games, while losing six. The Chiefs lead the league in total and rushing offense and are third in total defense.

The top game in the East is New York at Buffalo. The Bills took the Jets 33-23 two weeks ago, hurring New York quarterback Joe Namath into five interceptable passes and stopping the Jets ground attack at just five yards on the ground. The Bills lead the division with a 5-3-1 mark and New York is tied for second with Boston at 4-3-1.

Houston plays Boston, which will try to shake off the effects of its last-play loss to Denver last week. A wet field held the league's leading rusher, Boston's Jim Nance, to minimal gains last week. Houston is riding a three-game losing streak. League Sunday. St. Louis is at Pittsburgh, Baltimore plays Atlanta, Dallas meets Washington, Philadelphia is at Cleveland, New York travels to Los Angeles, San Francisco plays Chicago and Detroit is at Minnesota.

Jack Haulenbeek Hits 652

Jack Haulenbeek set a league record and was high shooter in the area with a 652 series in Mannie's Barber Shop League. He turned in a hat trick with games of 202, 226 and 224.

A pair of career first 600s were recorded. Frank Connell stroked 619 and Art Perry hit 603, both in Mannie's Barber Shop League.

In Soccer Finals

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Monroe Community College's soccer team, the defending regional and national champion, faced Auburn Community today in the Region III finals of the National Junior College Athletic Association.

The Rochester school, paced by Guy Bongiglio's two goals, slipped past Hudson Valley, 5-4, and Auburn downed Cobleskill, 6-3, on Rocky Powers' three-goal effort in Friday's semi-final round.

The two loser met for consolation honors today in the tournament at Erie County Tech in suburban Williamsville.

The regional winner will compete in the national championships at Garden City Nov. 18-19.

Marlboro Topples Onteora

Marlboro Central made halfback Fred Monroe's first period touchdown the difference as the Dukes nipped Onteora, 7-0, in a UCLA game Friday at the Boiceville gridiron.

Coach Paul Jordan's Indians didn't go down without a struggle. They had a first and goal to go on the Marlboro one late in the fourth period. They finally lost the pigskin only a foot from the goal line.

Quarterback Mike Pagano of the visitors swiped the first of his two passes to put his club in business on the Onteora 19 in the first period.

A couple of running plays moved the pigskin to the two. Pagano went in for an apparent score but a penalty moved it back to the seven. Monroe then turned his own right end and just made it. The PAT was successful.

The Indians had a first down on the Marlboro 10 before halftime but they were driven back to the 19 before losing the ball on downs.

In the bizarre third quarter, both sides exchanged the pigskin on fumbles. In fact, the ball changed hands three times in as many plays.

The victory ties the Dukes for third place with Liberty, both of the clubs posting 4-3 records. Onteora finished at 3-4 in league play and 4-4 for the season.

Knudson Has Lead In Tourney

By TED SMITS

TOKYO (AP) — George Knudson, the dapper Canadian, stretched his lead on Arnold Palmer to four strokes at the end of the third round of the Canada Cup international golf classic today as the United States took a strangle hold on the team championship.

Knudson shot 32-34-66 over the chilly, windy Yomiuri course giving him an eye-popping 64-68-66—198 for 54 holes, 18 under par. Palmer shot 34-35—69 for 66-67-69—202 as he saw his one-stroke deficit of Friday widen disastrously. Par for the 6,962 yard hilly course is 72.

Still in individual contention was Hideyo Sugimoto, the big Japanese professional who is playing his home course. He shot 32-36—68 for 66-69-68—203. And surging up was Jack Nicklaus of the United States, who had his best round yet, 34-33—67. This gave him 69-68-67—204.

The combination of Nicklaus' and Palmer's mighty sub-par golf resulted in a team score of only 406 for the United States, 26 under par. Next was Australia, 413, and South Africa, 415. Before the four-day tournament it was freely predicted that the team championship would go at 15 under par.

BARNYARD TRACKS SIMILAR TO DEER

THESE TRACKS MAY CONFUSE TYROS SO HERE'S HOW TO PREVENT TRACKING THE WRONG ANIMAL.

THE PIG'S TRACK, ABOVE, IS SIMILAR IN SIZE BUT IS MORE BLUNT THAN A SMALL DEER'S. PIG'S HOOF SPREADS MORE THAN A DEER'S BECAUSE PIGS ARE RELATIVELY HEAVIER ON THEIR FEET. PIG'S HIND FEET SELDOM STEP IN ITS FRONT FOOTPRINTS IN WALKING AS DEER OFTEN DO.

GOAT TRACK, RIGHT, IS BLUNT AND MORE SQUARISH THAN A DEER'S TRACK.

SHEEP TRACK, LOWER RIGHT, IS LIKE GOAT'S. NOTE HOLLOWED SIDES OF BOTH.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than legal minimum wages or pay wage differentials based on sex. Most employees engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 40 in a week. Beginning September 3, 1964, most employes in certain large retail service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 42 in a week. The Act also requires equal pay for equal work for men and women. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act, call or write the U. S. Labor Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y., 10452, WYandotte 2-1235.
IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of sex unless based on a bona fide occupational qualification. Help Wanted and Situation Wanted advertisements are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and are not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

TIGHT MONEY SALES ARE OFF

Because of these conditions
FOREST PARK HOME
is offering a
FREE COLOR TELEVISION SET

to be delivered with the purchase of each new home which can be constructed in the winter months. "Tight money" has resulted in our being unable to build up an inventory of houses over the winter for spring delivery. However, where there is a purchaser.

MORTGAGE MONEY IS AVAILABLE AT FOREST PARK

IN FOREST PARK you will find the most advanced designs of homes in the area. There are furnished models from low-long-ranches to New England Colonials, for on site or off site construction. Family rooms are richly panelled and off the kitchen and living room. Kitchens are country sized. All these houses are bright and cheerful "for living."

Models can be seen at Red Hook-Route 9G at the approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge. We are located in the Red Hook School District and in the most beautiful residential section of Dutchess or Ulster County.

You may never be able to buy a house of this type in as favorable conditions as you may today. In Spring—prices must be raised to meet ever increasing costs.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Will Decorate Empty Stores

Mrs. Joseph Sullivan, chairman of the Public Affairs Department of the Woman's Club of Saugerties, announces that the vacant store fronts on the main streets of Saugerties will be decorated for the Christmas holidays. This is being done at the suggestion of Village Trustee Gregory Mulstay who spoke to the group at its October meeting.

The following organizations are cooperating in this worthwhile venture: Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Teenage Federation, Girls Community Club, Monday Club, Garden Club, Saugerties Jayncees, Daughters of the American Revolution and the Saugerties Woman's Club.

The owners of the stores are to be commended for their cooperation, Mrs. Sullivan says.

Baptist Church

Sunday, at 9:05 a. m., the Wonderful Word broadcast will be heard over WGHQ. The Rev. Brooks N. Henry will continue a series of studies on "The Sermon on the Mount." At 9:45 a. m. whereby the following Resolution was unanimously adopted by all Board members present;

RESOLVED, that the Town Board of the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, hereby grants a 50% tax exemption on real property owned by persons sixty-five years of age or over who meet the statutory qualifications and otherwise comply with the provisions outlined in Section 467 of the Real Property Tax Law of the State of New York, and that the within Resolution shall take effect immediately.

Dated: November 9th 1966.
EMILY CARD, Town Clerk

STATE OF NEW YORK
DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
PUBLIC NOTICE —
MINIMUM WAGE
FILING OF REPORT OF WAGE BOARD

Pursuant to Section 656 of Article 19 of the Labor Law, the Industrial Commissioner filed with the Secretary of the Department on November 10, 1966 the Report and Recommendations of the single Minimum Wage Board appointed by him pursuant to Labor Law Section 652. Copies of the Report and Recommendations may be obtained at the Albany Office of the Industrial Commissioner, State Campus, Building 12, Room 521, and at the New York City Office of the Industrial Commissioner, Room 674, 80 Centre Street. Objections to and statements in support of the Report and Recommendations of the majority of the members of the Wage Board should be filed in writing with the Industrial Commissioner at his Albany Office, Room 521, Building 12, State Campus, Albany, New York 12226, not later than November 28, 1966.

HEARING

Pursuant to Section 652, subd. 2 and Section 655, subd. 5(c), the Industrial Commissioner will hold a hearing on special regulations relating to:

1. Employment of learners and apprentices.
2. The employment of individuals whose earning capacity is affected or impaired by youth or age, or by physical or mental deficiencies.
3. The employment of students by resort hotels and camps.
4. The employment of residential employees in non-profitmaking institutions.
5. The employment of seasonal workers in the establishment of a canner or freezer during first processing, canning or freezing of perishable fruits and vegetables.

The Hearing will commence in Albany on November 28, 1966, 9:00 a. m., in Room 514, Building 12, State Campus, and will continue in New York City on November 29, 1966, 9:00 a. m. at 80 Centre Street, Room 637. At these Hearings the Commissioner will also entertain oral argument by persons who have filed comments regarding the Report and Recommendations of the Wage Board.

100 Attend Company Dance

More than 100 members of the Centerville and Cedar Grove fire companies, and their wives, attended last weekend's dance at the Centerville Fire Company meeting hall. The event was an unqualified success and a well earned respite from regular firemanic activities of members and the hard work put in on the recent annual bazaar.

Music for the affair was provided by Johnny Surrano and his quartet, from Catskill and Athens, and ran the gamut from slow waltzes to rock-and-roll frugs.

In charge of organizing and conducting the Centerville dance were Thomas Brennan Jr., Peter Simmons and Woodrow and Louise Sperl.

Methodist Activities

New members received into Saugerties Methodist Church Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bartow, 4 Peach Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neff, 22 View Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blish, Plaza Garden Apartments, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Slater, Plattekill Drive, Mt. Marion. A coffee hour was held following the service for these and other new members, sponsored by the Commission on Membership and Evangelism. Another such coffee hour will be held Dec. 18 when more new members will be receivd.

Sunday will be observed as Loyalty Day at both services and pledges for the 1967 budget will be received and dedicated at the altar. Those unable to attend church should mail them to Mrs. Raymond Quackenbush, financial secretary, or give them to canvassers on Sunday, Nov. 20. The pastor's theme for Loyalty Day is "Give of Your Best."

Child care is provided during the second service and a second session of Sunday school for children 3-8, 9:45 a. m. Church school for all ages, 4:30 p. m. Pastor's membership class, 6 p. m. Junior and senior High Youth Fellowship.

Monday, Nov. 14—Men's Club covered dish supper. This will be work night for making posters and setting up committees for the Pancake Supper Dec. 2. Tuesday, Nov. 15 — Women's Society will observe a Quiet Day at the church from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., with a sacrificial luncheon at 12 noon. Child care is provided. Couples Club will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. with a covered dish supper and program. Wednesday, Nov. 16 the Commission on Missions meets at 7:30 p. m. at the church and the Building Committee will meet at the same hour. Thursday, Family Life Committee will meet with the Rev. Dotts at 7 p. m. at the home of the chairman, Mrs. George Trumpore.

Lodge 36 Meeting

Projects for the coming holiday, initiation ceremonies for the near future and discussion of a social hour for the next meeting were the main topics at a session of Queen of the Catskill Mountain Rebekah Lodge 36 at a meeting last week in the IOOF Hall, West Saugerties.

Noble Grand Augusta Schirmer noted that a school of instruction will be held Dec. 3 at 1 p. m. at the Bearsville Lodge. This meeting should conclude by 4:30 p. m.

Guests at last week's meeting were Mildred Schuchhardt and Blanch Dunn, of Lodge 34. Named to the refreshment committee for the next meeting were: Nelie Burton, Dorothy Welcome and Marie Post.

Lodge Card Party

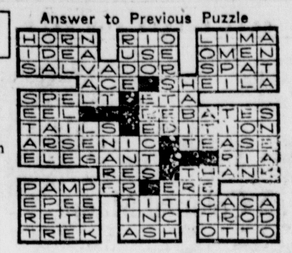

Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge No. 34 will hold a card party and social next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Rebekah rooms of the Odd Fellows Temple, Main Street, Saugerties. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Hurt at Marlboro

Injuries suffered in a one-car traffic accident at 6:15 o'clock this morning on Route 9W, just north of Marlboro, sent the driver of the vehicle to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, according to State Troopers at the Highland barracks. Operator of the car was identified as Clifford McMurtie, 26, of Little Britain Road, Newburgh. He reportedly suffered a fractured right hip and right leg and a fractured pelvis in the mishap. Trooper E. Pulver, of Highland barracks, investigated; said McMurtie was traveling South on Route 9W when he rounded a curve and lost control of the car, which overturned in the road. McMurtie was not cited and no summons has been issued at this time.

Gideon in News Again, Victim Of $75 Robbery

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The man whose case freed 1,500 convicts across the country has again become news — this time as a robbery victim.

Clarence Earl Gideon was an inmate of a Florida prison in 1963 when he sent a hand-written appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, telling that body he had been convicted without legal counsel. He was serving a five-year sentence for breaking and entering at the time.

The Supreme Court handed down a historic decision requiring counsel in felony trials which freed prisoners in every state.

Gideon made headlines here Thursday when the gasoline station where he works was robbed of about $75 while he was on duty. No arrests have been made.

New Jersey Man Hurt In Highland Mishap

A one-car accident at 12:15 o'clock this morning at the intersection of Route 299 and Route 9W, Highland, resulted in injuries to the driver and one passenger, according to Highland State Police. Trooper E. J. DeRosia reported that the driver, Thomas Lennox, 19, of Caldwell, N. J., had most of his teeth knocked out in the mishap and was admitted to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, for treatment. A passenger in the vehicle, Ronald Boettcher, 19, of Mineola, L. I., suffered contusions of the head but did not require hospitalization. According to the investigating trooper, the automobile was traveling east on Route 299, failed to stop for a flashing red light, drove across Route 9W and went into an adjacent field. Lennox was issued a summons for failure to stop for a flashing red light.

Cold Air, Rain Headed Eastward; Expect Some Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's coldest weather spread into the North Central region today with the mercury dropping to sub-zero marks in Montana, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Freezing readings were reported southward into the Texas Panhandle as the cold air headed southward and eastward across the Midwest.

Snow fell in scattered sections in the cold air in the upper Great Lakes region. More rain fell in the warm air in the deep South after Friday's drenching rains. Rain also dampened areas in the northern Pacific Coast and eastward, with snow at higher elevations in the northern and central Rockies.

Torrential rain hit areas in Texas Friday, with more than 6 inches at Beaumont in the upper Gulf Coast. More than 60 per cent of the city's streets were flooded. Highway and air travel was curtailed and some schools were closed. More than 5 inches of rain doused Lamarque, about 15 miles northwest of Galveston, in two hours, and 5 inches splashed Lakeview, near Port Arthur.

The rain belt extended eastward, with about 4 inches soaking Abbeville, in southeastern Alabama, in two hours and more than 2 inches fell at Fort Benning, Ga. A tornado wrecked a gas station and damaged property at an oil field at Fordoche, La., about 28 miles west, northwest of Baton Rouge. No injuries were reported.

The warm air sent the mercury to record high marks for Nov. 11 in some cities, including 81 at Wilmington, N.C.; 69 at Boston and 68 at Providence, R.I. Friday's high at Bismarck, N.D., was 15 above.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 8 below zero at Aberdeen, S.D., to 72 at Brownsville, Tex.

Georgia Must Settle Election By November 25

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The state of Georgia has been put on deadline to find a legal solution to choosing a new governor — other than allowing the legislature to choose between Republican Howard H. Callaway and Democrat Lester G. Maddox.

A three-judge federal panel said Friday that if the state fails to present a plan by Nov. 25 the court will provide the remedy.

This raised the possibility of a runoff election under a 1964 state law within the next month.

Neither candidate received a majority of votes, required by the Georgia constitution for victory, because of a strong write-in vote for former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall.

Arnall, a moderate Democrat, was defeated by Maddox, a segregationist, in the Democratic primary.

The formal court order was delayed until next Tuesday, but the judges made it clear that the court would not allow the General Assembly to decide the deadlocked race.

The judges, commenting from the bench, said a legislative election of a governor would violate the U.S. Constitution and the Supreme Court decisions on one man, one vote.

With all of the state's 1,893 precincts reported but with an undetermined number of absentee ballots still uncounted, Maddox had 447,426 votes, Callaway 445,832 and Arnall 57,699.

After the court ruled, Maddox said he had no prediction of the outcome of the court action and would not comment until the final verdict was in.

Earlier, Maddox advocated an election by the legislature which has more than four-fifths Democrats.

Callaway urged another election "so the people can decide."

Post 150 Women On Campaign for Veteran's Gifts

Members of Kingston Post 150, American Legion Auxiliary, are joining their counterparts throughout the country and state in formulating plans to staff the gift shop counters at the Albany Veterans Hospital.

Auxiliary officials said the 15th annual "Operations Gift Shop" is to provide hospitalized veterans an opportunity to send their loved ones some little memento at Christmas. Mrs. June Murphy, local rehabilitation chairman said there are some 1,000 hospitalized veterans in the Albany Hospital at this time and Auxiliaries throughout the state must provide a large number of gifts. Due to this fact, the local Auxiliary must solicit the aid of the general public and requests that anyone wishing to donate to such a worthy cause contact Auxiliary members or leave their gifts at the Memorial Building at 18 West O'Reilly Street. Only new gifts suitable as Christmas gifts can be accepted. Also cosmetics, candy, food or anything that is perishable or breakable cannot be accepted.

Gifts received will be placed on display in the hospital Recreation room for the open house on Dec. 4. Auxiliary units from Ulster County will be at the Hospital on Monday, Dec. 5 to assist with the gift wrapping of the gifts. Auxiliary officials request that all those intending to make the trip to Albany for the wrapping operation be at the third floor Recreation room on Dec. 5 at 9 a. m. Auxiliary hat or hospital workers uniform should be worn while working on the project.

Anyone wishing to donate to the cause is requested to send his or her contribution to the Unit Rehabilitation Chairman or leave them at the Memorial Building on West O'Reilly Street before Friday, Nov. 25.

Hits Ulster Bridge

State Police at Lake Katrine barracks reported only superficial injuries to a driver involved in a minor traffic accident Friday night 7:30 p. m. on Route 28A, Stony Hollow. Investigating trooper, A. W. Spencer, said that William Rannon, 27, of Olmstedville, suffered lacerations of the forehead and was treated at Benedictine Hospital. Authorities said Rannon apparently fell asleep at the wheel, failed to negotiate a left turn and struck the side of a bridge he was crossing at the time.

Killed in Crash

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A 50-year-old man died Friday when, police said, his automobile suddenly swerved on Fuhrmann Boulevard near downtown Buffalo, struck a guard rail and overturned.

He was Daniel Richardson of nearby Lackawanna, who was thrown from the car.

Richardson's address was 129 Stoney St.

Dulplicate Expert Adds One Trick

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In a match point duplicate game the chances are that every South player of today's hand will get to three no-trump and go after the diamond suit by playing the king and then leading toward dummy for a finesse. West would show out and eventually declarer would go down one or two tricks depending on whether or not he would try the club finesse.

The average rubber bridge player would probably go down but an expert duplicate game would probably make four no-trump.

He would win the first heart in his own hand, lead a diamond to dummy's ace and a second diamond back toward his king-nine. He would plan to rise with the king in the event that East showed out or played the queen or ten. Assuming East did play low expert South would play his nine. Then he would cash his king; return to dummy with the ace of spades and give East his queen of diamonds.

This line of play would guarantee four diamond tricks against anything except a 5-0 diamond break. Four diamonds plus two spades, two hearts and a club adds to nine tricks.

How would expert South make an overtrick? East would probably lead a second heart when he got in with the queen of diamonds. South would have discarded a spade on the fourth diamond. He would discard another spade on the fifth. He would cash his ace of spades and be left with the nine of hearts and ace-queen-small of clubs. Assuming West had held two clubs, South might end play him by leading the nine of hearts.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Saturday, Nov. 12, the 316th day of 1966. There are 49 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date, in 1932, President Herbert Hoover invited President - elect Franklin D. Roosevelt to confer with him at the White House on a request by Great Britain for suspension for its war-debt payments.

On this date:

In 1812, Napoleon's army reached the Russian city of Smolensk in its retreat from Moscow.

In 1937, the Japanese captured and occupied the city of Shanghai.

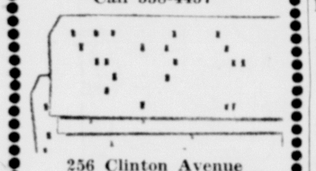

In 1944, the U.S. 3rd Fleet wiped out a Japanese convoy trying to bring reinforcements to Leyte Island.

Ten years ago — As the U.N. General Assembly opened its 11th annual regular session, three Arab nations, Sudan, Morocco and Tunisia, were elected unanimously to the United Nations, raising the world organization's membership to 79.

Five years ago—Former Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotove returned to Moscow amid reports that he had been expelled from the Soviet Communist party along with two associates. The three were said to have been accused of engineering a plot against Soviet Premier Khrushchev in 1957.

One year ago — The U.N. Security Council approved a resolution condemning a declaration of independence by Rhodesia. The council called on all U.N. members to impose economic and diplomatic sanctions on the white minority regime in Rhodesia.

FULL WEEK'S LISTINGS FOR WEEK OF NOV. 13th THRU NOV. 19th

Milton Berle serves up Berle, variety, comedy—but mostly Berle—each Friday evening, ABC. Bobby Rydell and Donna Loren are regulars on the program. The Mitchell Ayres orchestra provides the beat as guests laugh it up with Uncle Miltie.

Travel Down Memory Lane — Uncle Miltie's Right There, Too

By ISOBEL ASHE

Let us wander down Memory Lane together this time out—in '48, the war had been over for three years. New cars weren't a rarity, and skirt lengths had reached their new low. Movies might have been better than ever, but a lot of people didn't know about it.

They had television.

Do you recall when the first people on the block with television had a little screen which they sometimes enhanced with a bubble-thing over it to make the picture larger? And everyone in the neighborhood piled into the living room to see this great new invention?

The family who'd plunked down their several hundred dollars (at that time) for a television set found the overhead was like having the only swimming pool on the block. The guests, invited or otherwise, ate and drank a lot.

And what was the big attraction?

Milton Berle, that's what. "Uncle Miltie," as they called him. Veteran of the night club and vaudeville circuit. An institution. Bars bought television sets just to keep their patrons drinking on Tuesday nights for the hour he was on. Department stores stayed open for Uncle Miltie's show, and sold more sets. Restaurant business on Tuesdays was nonexistent.

Berle became an institution and did more to sell sets, to establish the then-infant medium than any individual other than Dr. Lee de Forest, who invented the image orthicon. (That's the television tube, to the non-enginers in the crowd.)

What happened then? There was a Milton Berle show on television for eight years. A total of 380 shows. He signed an unheard-of contract which is still in existence. It runs until 1981, and made show business history in the area of star-network negotiations.

And what has this to do with the current season?

Well, Berle has been back since September, on Friday nights, ABC, 9-10 p. m. Eastern Time, as you well know if you've ben paying attention to the telly schedules.

What, you may ask, as did this reporter, does a man as rich and successful as Milton Berle want with the grueling schedule that a wekly hour-long show demands?

"I'm a ham who wants to work. Pure ham. Berle'd ham." (He insists that puns are the highest form of humor, and twists them around in normal conversation.)

"Sure I had the contract with NBC, but I used up all the NBC shows I could do. When ABC came to me with this deal, with executive producers Bill Harbach and Nick Vanoff, and Bill Dana as the producer, I wanted to do it. I'm Charlie Fearless. So my agents re-negotiated the NBC contract; I took a 40 per cent cut from the original monies, and I'm having the time of my life.

"We're not doing a vaudeville show. It's a revue. Vaudeville is easier to book, but I don't have to get a manicure to do my show. I don't point at anyone."

A funny man, Berle can be wildly analytical in assessing the values of other shows.

"What about the time slot, with the shows opposite you?" he was asked at the time he began preparing for the present series.

"If you like me, you'll tune me in. There aren't any more choice spots on television; there are too many good shows all around. But remember the name of medium: tele-vision." He divided the word into two parts.

"There should be more vision. Television can be too talky. I think we have an opulent look. I like to call it high style and low comedy. But my same style prevails.

"The jokes are new, I hope. Sorry I mentioned 'Hope' in the same breath," he continued without hesitation. "We're doing jokes about people currently in the news, but not about Congress. I've gotta leave them for Hope," he grinned.

"After all, would you want me any different?" he continued. "I said at the outset I wanted to do the show as we did originally, before there were cue cards or teleprompters. If I forgot a line, I'd ad lib.

"Sure I won't kid you—sometimes the ad libs were written in. But it gave the audience a sense of being 'in' with the action. If the scenery falls, or a doorknob comes off, I try to talk through it. I did it for eight years, remember."

In regard to ad-libbing, Berle is one of the few comics around who's never been topped by a heckler in a night club. Utter chagrin befalls the imbiber who attempts to interfere with his act. Or, perhaps, mayhem would be a better description. Berle is a master at ad-libbing, at coming up with the right word at the right time, rather than three hours later when the party's over, as with most of us.

"And it isn't true that I steal jokes from other comics," he says. "It started as a joke years ago to establish an image with another comic who has now passed on. Walter Winchell gave me the name 'The Thief of Bad Gags' and the other man, Richie Craig, and I began heckling each other, fueding that we stole jokes from each other. It was all a put-on thing."

In the Berle offices today are filing cabinets containing four million jokes. He jokes about that, too: "I never use them, they're open to all the stand-up comics."

The fact is that each is cross-catalogued and referenced according to subject matter, from whom he bought the joke (and he does buy them), when it was used and how the audience reacted.

The fact that Berle has a phenomenal memory for probably a good many of the four million gags hasn't hurt him very much at all.

When the corporation of Berle-Vanoff and Harbach was first announced, with Bill Dana as producer of the show, television writers wondered how it happened that Dana wanted to forsake his fey Jose Jiminez character to work on the other side of the cameras.

Berle wanted him. "In 1951 Bill was a sixth-floor page boy at NBC. He called me to the phone all the time. 'Miss Cosgrove is calling, Mr. Berle,' he used to say. Well, since I married Miss Cosgrove, I figured Bill was the right casting for our show.

"No, but seriously, he knows me, my work and style and I think he knows how to put on a variety show. It takes a certain knack."

Dana, whom the world of show business knows equally wel as Jose Jiminez, took on the assignment of show producer because:

"It was a challange. I've always wanted to be a producer, and you don't turn down a chance like this when it's offered."

Jose Jiminez isn't being retired, however. He's doubling in assignments. Between the Berle show duties, Dana will also be seen on a gaggle of shows this season: among them, Dean Martin's show of Nov. 20; a Hollywood Palace the following week, Nov. 26, with two more to follow, and an Andy Williams show.

"I can't put the little fellow away any more than Edgar Bergen could leave Charlie McCarthy in a suitcase," Dana grins.

Berle has been widely known as an actor who likes his own way and appears almost autonomous in his projects. Dana, when first announced as producer, was quiried by half the world who interviewed him:

"How do you intend to get Berle to take orders?"

His answer: "We've got a deal—an understanding. If Berle interferes and I don't like it, we have agreed not to argue on the set. "We'll go to his dressing room, where I'll hit him!"

Bill gets serious now and then in discussing this subject, as witness:

"I think there's a tremendous difference between the Berle of ysterday and today. In the early days he supervised everything because he knew more than anybody else in television. Now he is aware that many people know more tricks than he does. He doesn't need the money but he loves the action and he can bring some laughs back to the tube.

"I know this sounds corny but, believe it or not, Berle is dedicated to diverting people—taking their minds off their troubles.

"It's not as expensive as psychoanalysis. And come to think of it, I never saw anyone come out laughing after seeing their doctors. They do leave the Berle show laughing. jope," says Jose Jiminez' alter ego.

"UNCLE MILTIE" and Donna Loren ham it up for the camera in connection with Berele's Friday evening "Burle-esque" variety hour, ABC—9 to 10 p. m., Eastern Time.

Charlie McCarthy, With Bergen, to Host Radio Fete

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The wonderful world of radio gets a salute Sunday night when Charlie McCarthy, aided by a fellow named Edgar Bergen, hosts a show on NBC radio in honor of the network's 40th anniversary.

The elusive Mr. McCarthy was unavailable for an interview, but Bergen agreed to talk over lunch at a Chinese restaurant on Sunset Boulevard.

Third Annual Throwback

This is the third of Bergen's annual harkbacks to radio's glorious days. The first contained excerpts from his old Chase & Sanborn show, the second was a tribute to the late Fred Allen.

"The new show has some marvelous stuff in it," said the ventriloquist. "We've got forty different stars, and there are some hilarious routines with Ed Wynn and with Groucho Marx. Amos 'n' Andy are on it, and Lum and Abner, too.

"Then we have many of the great historical events of the past forty years — Edward VIII's abdication speech, the Hindenburg disaster, etc. We have a real gamut, everyone from Winston Churchill to Mortimer Snerd!"

Now Fallen Stars

Bergen and McCarthy and their cloddish friend Mortimer were among the biggest stars of radio's golden years in the 1930s and 1940s. The era of bigtime network shows ended when talent and advertising money moved into television.

During television's early years, Bergen performed on one-hour specials and a quiz show — "Do You Trust Your Wife?" — and he now makes a few guest appearances. He is content not to be faced with a weekly comedy show.

"I guess I got lazy a little earlier than most," he commented. "I don't know why the others try to make it on a weekly basis. Look at Milton Berle. He can be an excellent comedian, but he burns himself out by trying a weekly show, and now he is canceled.

"Bob Hope has the right idea. He spreads himself out to one show a month and leaves the audience wanting more. It would make much more sense if other comedians would do that and give a chance for others. I feel sorry for the thousands of talented performers throughout this country who will never get a chance to demonstrate what they can do."

Just Once

When Lucille Ball and Phyllis Diller were taping the Bob Hope Chrysler special on which 15 of Bob's leading ladies appeared, Lucy asked Phyllis if she ever teased her hair.

"Just once," Phyllis said, "I teased it for a half an hour and it snapped at me."

Getting Easier For Phyllis Diller

HOLLYWOOD — "Oh, sweetheart, it's getting easier every day."

Phyllis Diller, her hair looking like a mop just untangled from an electric fan, sat down between scenes to enthuse about growing accustomed to her pace in the new weekly ABC-TV comedy series, The Pruitts of Southampton.

"At first," she explained, "it was tough getting up at an hour when I normally went to bed. And oh, sweetheart, those big hunks of dialogue they handed me to memorize. But now it's easier and I love it. Do you know what I love most of all? There are people around me now. I'm no longer all alone on a stage."

She was also happy about settling down in one place.

After 11 years on the road playing night clubs, giving concerts and doing TV guestings on both coasts, Phyllis has bought a home once occupied by Shirley Temple.

"Boy, did I buy a home—22 rooms. But you know something. It still isn't big enough for all my junk — clothes, pictures, props. I had to rent an apartment, too. I'm the expansion type. And you know something? Most people buy a home and forget about it. For 11 years I've wanted a home. My goal was a home. This TV series gave me one."

Phyllis' secretary, carrying a heavily beaded dress, interrupted her. Would this dress be all right, she wanted to know, for the window of a book store which had requested it for a display featuring her just-published book, "Phyllis Diller's Housekeeping Hints."

It was, Phyllis said.

"All my mistakes are beaded," she laughed. I'm not humble — that dress will be in a museum someday."

The role she's playing in the series is a delight to her, too.

"This is more like me," she says. "The other Phyllis Diller is a cartoon. When the other Phyllis Diller talks, everything I say is in a balloon over my head like in the comic strips.

"One man (Al Simon, president of Filmways, producer of the show) wasn't sure I was right for the part until we sat down and had lunch. It was fun watching an iceberg melt. He discovered in two minutes that I could be soft and female, too."

How long does it take to tangle her hair?

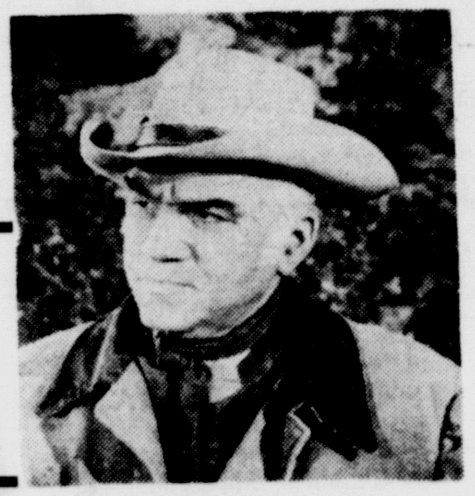

"I'm glad you asked that," she howled. "Oh, sweetheart, my hair stays for a week just where my hairdresser tangles it. She thinks I sleep standing up."

She was needed back on the set.

"Oh, sweeheart," she said before leaving. "Here's a beautiful line I thought of this morning—show me a happy marriage and I'll show you a couple in a wax museum."

Phyllis Diller writes her own interviews . . . and tags them, too.

TV Questions & Answers

STAY AWAY LUCW — Lucille Ball is undoubtedly one of the most versatile and funniest females on TV. But if she ever visits McAllen, Tex., I hope she doesn't make a special called Lucy in McAllen if it would be as sorry as Lucy in London.
—P.T.V., McAllen, Tex.

The comedienne told TV Scout she wants to do more specials like her recent London effort. But she didn't mention McAllen.

AVAILABLE STARS—Recently I saw Robert Vaughn and Sally Field on The Dating Game and was surprised. Aren't they married?
—Deborah Pierce, Miami, Fla.

No. They are both single.

PHYLLIS IS MUM—How old is Phyllis Diller of The Pruitts of Southampton?
—Renae Lahti, Saginaw, Mich.

She won't say. But an honest guess is that the comedienne (the mother of five and a grandmother) is around 50.

* * *

UNFAIR EXPOSURE — Why doesn't ABC-TV give its new shows a chance? They took Tammy Grimes off before we even got to know whether we would like her or not!
—Eddie C. Schuyler, Miami Springs, Fla.

These days a network can't afford to wait for a low rated show to build an audience. Sponsors prefer to put their money behind a show that has already caught on. Besides Tammy, ABC-TV has ordered the "killing" of Hawk, The Man Who Never Was, Shane, The Rounders and The Milton Berle Show. All will be off the air before January.

* * *

SEAVIEW SAILABLE?—Is the submarine on Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea real?
—Cathy Hoffman, Vienna, W.Va.

No. It's a futuristic model of what an underwater vessel may look like in 1975. It's grounded on the 20th Century-Fox lot in Hollywood.

ON HIS WAY—I thought Roy Thinnes, who used to be on The Long Hot Summer was going to have a series again this season.
—Mrs. P.G., Portland, Ore.

He will. The actor stars in The Invaders, a science fiction adventure which will debut over ABC-TV in January.

RAT FANS — Name all the members of the Rat Patrol. What desert are they supposed to be on? Does the show have a high rating? — Linda Christenson, South St. Paul, Minn.

The Rats are Christopher George (Sgt. Sam Troy); Gary Raymond (Sgt. Jack Moffitt); Larry Casey (Pvt. Mark Hitchcock) and Justin Tarr (Pvt. Tully Pettigrew). Chief antagonist is Hans Gudegast, who plays a German captain. They are supposed to be in the North African desert. Except for the first episode, all the programs have been filmed in southern Spain. One of the highest rated new shows of the season, ABC-TV is trying to make up its mind whether to film future episodes in Hollywood or in Spain.

TOUCH-UP JOBS—Is it possible to tint old black and white films so that they will appear in color on TV?—John H. Wallace, Norfolk, Va.

Yes. But the process is so costly that it's seldom done.

LEARNED DOCTOR — What is Jonathan Harris' educational background? — H. C., Jackson, Mich.

The actor who plays Dr. Smith on Lost in Space graduated with a degree in pharmacy from Fordham University. He worked for six years as a pharmacist before he took up acting in the early 1940's. He never returned to the pill bottles. He is married and has one son, Richard, who is a graduate student at UCLA.

STATION BREAK

"I'm sure glad 'Wagon Train' stopped when it did. You and I are right in the middle of the main highway west!"

'N.E.T. Journal' On Channel 17

Two New England newspapers are held up to the nation as models of responsible journalism, Monday, November 14 at 8:30 p. m. on Channel 17's "N.E.T. Journal."

The papers are the Bennington (Vt.) Banner and the Berkshire Eagle (Pittsfield, Mass.). Both papers are owned by Pete and Don Miller who tell the National Educational Television audiences that their aim is to publish as much news as possible, both local and national, and to keep the ratio of advertising low. Both men will also appear with other area publishers on a special Channel 17 program Wednesday, November 23 at 10 p. m., discussing "Is the Newspaper Vanishing?"

Berkshire Eagle Managing Editor Rex Fall agrees his paper gets many complaints about the Eagle's strong editorial statements, but Fall believes this is good, for it shows people are reading the paper. And N.E.T. reporters find he is right, for when they interview Pittsfield residents to learn how the Eagle is viewed by the town, the people say they read the paper, even though they may not agree with its liberal editorial policy.

In sharp contrast, "N.E.T. Journal" looks at the Okmulgee Times Record, to find out why the papers' editors consider the death of a cow front page news and the editorial page the ideal place for "thinly veiled promotional pieces."

Comparing the quality of coverage by newspapers in four representative communities, this hour-long program is the second of two N.E.T. reports on "The Vanishing Newspaper." The first, aired last week, concentrated on the big city press.

Always Loser

Alert audiences may have noticed the same KAOS man frequently shows up on Get Smart, trying to capture Don Adams, and always losing out. He's a stocky fellow with a broad face. Who is he? Al Szathmary, the brother of Bill Dana.

'Dream Girl' Search on WAST Begins Dec. 19

"Dream Girl of '67," the daytime program that will spotlight the glamour and excitement of a beauty pageant, on a daily basis, (Monday-Friday) will premiere Monday, Dec. 19, from 2:30 to 2:55 p. m.

The program will replace the current daytime series, "A Time For Us."

"Dream Girl of '67," styled on the lines of the nation's top beauty pageants, will involve a nationwide search for a woman whose beauty, charm, and personality establish her as the most marriageable girl in America.

Host of the new daytime show will be Dick Stewart, a popular West Coast broadcasting personality who has served as master of ceremonies at a number of major beauty pageants in the San Francisco area.

Lavishly produced, "Dream Girl of '67" will sustain the glamour and excitement that surrounds the country's most sumptuous beauty spectaculars.

Four contestants ranging in age from 18 - 27, will be judged by an all-male panel of bachelor celebrities on the basis of poise and personality and style consciousness. After the interview portion of the program, the judging will continue as the contestants appear on stage in fashions that might include evening gowns, cocktail dresses and beachwear.

A different female celebrity each week will add to the glamour by serving as fashion narrator.

Each daily winner will compete on Friday to become "Dream Girl of the Week." Weekly winners will return for an annual, gala beauty pageant to determine the "Dream Girl of '67."

"Dream Girl of '67" was created by Chuck Barris Productions. The production company also developed the highly popular daytime programs, "The Newlywed Game," and "The Dating Game."

Tina Louise: Not for Real

HOLLYWOOD—"I'm not for real," Tina Louise said.

She was referring to the role she just played in an Italian movie during time off from her character of Ginger, the movie star, in CBS-TV's Gilligan's Island.

Ginger isn't exactly for real, either, but as everyone knows red-haired, busty Tina definitely is for real.

The movie which took her to Rome sounded as unreal as her role of a famous doctor who heads up a huge private sanitarium. One day a fellow arrives to sell her some medical supplies and when he talks there is a whistle in his nose.

She offers to cure him of this annoying affliction and he is admitted as a patient who, it is discovered, is plagued with all sorts of strange diseases. Not until he dies does he leave the sanitarium.

The English title for the film will be, "The Man With the Whistle in His Nose."

"But really," Tina laughs, "I still don't know what the picture is about or what it all means and there are a lot of dream sequences which indicate I'm not even for real. I asked the director Ugo Toniazzi (who also plays the man with the whistle in his nose) to explain it to me but even with his explanaion I don't know what it's all about."

Meanwhile, back on Gilligan's Island, Tina is looking forward to a two-part episode in which she will play a dual role as Ginger and as a Miss Plane Jane who shows up on the island.

Feeling sorry for the gal, Ginger launches a beautification campaign and Miss Plain Jane winds up looking exactly like Ginger.

Converting Tina Louise into a Miss Plain Jane challenges the imagination as the year's greatest make-up problem. But Tina shrugs this off.

"You will be surprised," she laughs. "Just a frowsy wig and no make-up can change the looks of any woman."

Tina also had a surprise waiting at home for Les Crane, her husband of six months.

"I'm baking my first apple pie," she anounced. "I bought a pie board and a rolling pin and I have my mother-in-law's recipe."

Tina Louise in the kitchen rolling a pie crust?

Tina Louise as Miss Plain Jane?

The plot of The Man With the Whistle in His Nose suddenly didn't see so unreal.

Horse for Company

During taping of a comedy special for Bob Hope's Chrysler Theater, Bob and his guest stars were startled when a horse, from a nearby set, calmly walked through as scene in which all the actors were attired in evening wear. "Nobody told me this was going to be a drawing room Western," Hope said.

BERLE at work—MILTON BERLE and BILL DANA, perfectionists at the task of creating comedy, check scripts for the MILTON BERLE SHOW, Friday evening ABC PRESENTATION, 9-10 p. m. Eastern Time . . . . . .

Two in One

Jonathan Winters did two shows when he appeared on The Andy Williams Show recently. Between dress rehearsal and tape, he did an almost complete about-face and barely used any of the material on the cue cards. During dress, he played an outer space creature who tells U.S. astronauts to cool it and stop littering space with garbage. He also broke up Andy by telling him he planned to dam Moon River.

'The Outlaws' Ch. 13 Premiere

"The Outlaws", a sixty-minute western series will premiere over WAST, Channel 13 in the 6:30-7:30 p. m. time period on a Monday thru Friday basis, Monday, November 14, replacing "Route 66" which will have its last telecast Friday, November 11.

"The Outlaws" is the story of three law enforcement men in the Wyoming territory of the 1890's. The program stars Barton MacLane as U.S. Marshall Frank Caine, with Jock Gaynor and Don Collier as his two deputy Marshalls.

Instead of telling the story of the Oklahoma badmen of the 1890's from the viewpoint of these desperadoes, "Outlaws" will focus more on the law enforcement officers and decent citizens involved when the territory was first thrown open to homesteaders in 1889.

Lost Mustache

Joey Forman, who plays Harry Hoo in some Get Smart episodes, went to lunch in his make-up, which included a Fu Manchu-type mustache. He thought his lunch tasted funny but didn't know why until the show's make-up man, Ray Sebastian, said "You ate your mustache."

And indeed, he had.

Sees Ustinovian Career Heading in All Directions

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Succotash," said Peter Ustinov, peering over the menu of the Disney Studio commissary. "What is succotash."

He was told that it was a combination of corn and lima beans.

"So that's what it is!" he exclaimed. "And I always thought succotash was an obscure battle of your Civil War."

The double Academy winner—supporting awards for "Spartacus," 1960, "Topkapi," 1965—was in excellent Ustinov form—puckish, provocative, rotund. "I really don't eat very much." "Then how do you explain your girth?" "When I was a baby, we had no girth control".

His size seems fitting for his role of "Blackbeard's Ghost," and he looked properly piratical in his bandanna and buccaneer's costume. He also seems well suited to the philosopher's robes in "Barefoot in Athens," tonight's NBC special in which he portrays Socrates. It is his first venture into television drama since he played Samuel Johnson on an early 'Omnibus" program.

Work on Many Fronts

As usual, the Ustinovian career is proceeding in all directions. Currently in release is "The Lady L," which he wrote and directed and also played a small role.

"I have a book of short stories called 'Frontiers of the Sea,' which is being published this month,' 'he reported. "Two new plays of mine will soon be produced in London—'The Unknown Soldier and His Wife," which is being done by the Royal Shakespeare Company, and "Halfway Up the Tree.'

Also in Ustinov's future is a novel. It concern's the sheriff of a small Southern town who wins a European trip and gets into an argument in an English pub with the Communist shop steward of a local union. "The sheriff shoots the man out of habit," said the author. "The rest of the book concerns the English government's dilemma of how to punish him for doing what comes naturally."

"Blackbeard's Ghost" is the first Hollywood film for Ustinov since the debacle of "John Goldfarb. Pleace Come Home" "I had an inclination it would turn out badly because we were enjoying it too much."

Bewitched Fits Nicely With '65 Blackout Episode

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With excellent timing and delightful imagination, ABC's "Bewitched" Thursday night came up with a thoroughly comprehensible explanation of last year's big blackout.

Aunt Clara, whose powers of sorcery are not as dependable as they were when she was younger, accidentally put out the lights of the entire Eastern Seaboard when all she was trying to do was move a grand piano by means of witchcraft.

That the program came almost on the anniversary of the blackout was, of course, no coincidence, and it fitted in nicely since a lot of people have been recalling where they were and what they did on the night when all the lights went out.

"Bewitched" was not the only show that was busily taking some liberties with history Thursday night. CBS' "Jericho" used the daring removal of Mussolini from a mountain top by German troops, engineered late in World War II by German Col. Otto Skorzeny as the base of a fictitious, flamboyant adventure for the show's intrepid secret agents.

The program even had a character, "Major Otto Von Zeeny," who seemed almost as smart as the heroes — except he was bad, of course.

The rescue of Mussolini by the Germans, however, was mostly a point of reference and at most a subplot. The three superagents of the story were busy trying to get the German plans for the Italian invasion.

And the blackout was just one ingredient in the "Bewitched" episode. As it developed, baby sitting, Aunt Clara's romance and the sale of a million-dollar advertising campaign were the more important ingredients.

In spite of all the preseason announcements about meaningful, significant drama that was going to be the spice of the current television season, two months have passed, and so far we have not seen any of it.

Total Loss

A report from a reliable source says ABC-TV is taking a loss of $450,000 on the six episodes of The Tammy Grimes Show that were filmed, but never telecast.

STATION BREAK

"The strength of a TV show like this comes from its writer. Meaning, he has to have a strong stomach!"

Turkey Farm Ch. 17 Feature

Television cameras tour a modern turkey farm, on Channel 17's "Home and Garden Guide" Tuesday, November 22 at 8 p. m. Walter Durniak, Schenectady County Extension Service agent, interviews Leon McClaine at McClaine's Hillside Turkey Farm in Duanesburg and gives viewers an inside look at the farm. The program, which was videotaped in early November, begins with a view of 2,000 live turkeys, and shows the equipment and procedures used in growing the turkeys, processing, packaging, and freezing.

"Home and Garden Guide," a weekly presentation of WMHT, is produced and directed by Ron Brown.
